The Police Lock Him Up to Prevent What Might Terminate in a Tragedy.

Wooster, O., Feb. 26.—A young man giving his name as David Knepper and his home in Willmore, Pa., was arrested late last night. He tried to force his way into the home of William Annot to see Miss Alice Brenner, a pretty domestic.

He had nearly $200 in cash and a revolver loaded to the muzzle was found on his person. Miss Bremner, he claimed, had promised to marry him, and on leaving Willmore had written him that she would not keep her word.

He claimed to have spent $500 on her and gave her money to buy her a wedding outfit. He reached town last night, and acting queerly was watched.

Miss Brenner had received letters from him in which he stated that if she did not marry him he would kill her and then kill himself with dynamite. The girl says she left home to avoid Knepper, as his attentions were distasteful.

He is a nice looking young man, well-dressed, but evidently crazed with love for the girl.

TROUBLE IN CUBA.

The Yoke of Spanish Rule is Oppressive,

And the People Will Rise and Break It.

Revolutionary Movement Well Under Way.

Shiploads of Arms Sent From This Country.

Secret Societies in the United States Whose Object is Reported to be in Line with That of the Sons of Malta.

New York, Feb. 26.—The World this morning publishes an article declaring that another revolution is on foot to liberate Cuba.

Preparations, it says, are in active progress in this and other cities, as well as upon the Island itself. When it will break forth is as yet unknown, but from all indications all the plans of the leaders are nearly ripe and the first blow may be struck within a few days.

The movement is stated upon good authority to be the largest and most completely organized ever inaugurated for Cuban independence.

There are said to be 8,000 Cuban patriots in this country ready to join in the war. In Cuba the revolutionist party is also actively preparing for the outbreak, and when the word is given the forces on Spanish and United States soil will act in conjunction for the overthrow of the Spanish yoke.

The plans have been in progress for several months. New York has been made the headquarters; but so much secrecy has been maintained that the news of the contemplated uprising only leaked out yesterday.

Then it became known that for several months past meetings of the Cubans have been held in the cities of Tampa and Key West, Fla., and during the past six weeks in New York for the purpose of organizing an army and raising funds to assist the residents of Cuba who are dissatisfied with the Spanish government.

In New York three revolutionists clubs have been formed. Another club will be organized next Sunday. The names of the clubs are the Los Independentes, the Jose Marti club—named in honor of its promoter, Senor Jose Marti, the Uruguayan consul—and the Penos Nuevo. Next Sunday the Porto Ricans of New York will form a revolutionary association.

A Cuban now in this city, who is one of the most prominent men in the movement, says the people of Cuba are dissatisfied because the Spanish government did not carry out the reforms which it promised after the late revolution. The clubs in this country, he said, have been thoroughly organized and their plans have been mapped out in good shape. The revolution, he added, would come very soon.

Two coasting vessels left this port a few weeks ago, and it was reported that each one carried a cargo of arms for Venezuelan insurrectionists, but it was said in Spanish circles a few days ago that the arms were landed at Key West and were destined for use in Cuba.

R. A. C. Smith, the well known Wall street banker, has immense interests in Cuba. He recently returned to the United States from an extensive trip in the West Indies. When spoken to yesterday regarding the probable revolution he scouted the idea and said the island was never in a more prosperous condition. The planters, he said, were investing their money at home and the fact demonstrated to him they have no idea of revolution.

STREET CAR STRIKE.

Stillwater, Minn., Feb. 26.—All the employes of the electric car lines struck this morning and not a wheel is turning. The caue is the non-payment of wages by the company, some men having nearly $100 due them. The company is said to be making money but sending the earnings to headquarters at Davenport, Ia., to pay old debts.

San Antonio, Tex., Feb. 26.—This city was visited by a terrible fire to-day. It started this morning in the buiness portion of the city and before it could be placed under control had consumed buildings covering nearly two acres of ground. The loss will be nearly $300,000.

He Did Not Propose to be White-Capped.

His Wife and Sister Aid Him, and with an Axe He Does Considerable Damage.

English, Ind., Feb. 26.—Particulars of an attempted white capping of Robert Underhill at Branchville, Perry county, are only beginning to reach here.

Underhill is a deaf mute and was attacked by five men. By the aid of his wife and sister the assailants were fought off until he secured an ax, by which he committed damage yet unknown.

Ed Keefe, a young man of unsteady habits, is missing, and Lewis Falkenburg is lying in bed badly wounded in the shoulder blade.

He says he was kicked by a horse, though others think the wound might have been made with an ax. Underhill is badly wounded in the head, face and neck with shot and will doubtless die.

STOCKHOLDERS LIABILITIES.

Burlington, Vt., Feb. 26.—The supreme court yesterday rendered a verdict in the case of Savage and Danfroth vs. William Foster, Jr., awarding the plaintiffs $9,000. Foster was sued as ex-president of the New York & Montreal railroad to recover money for repairs on the Lebanon Springs road, purchased by the former company. The suit was brought under the statute of the state of New York which makes a stockholder liable for debts of his company.

Detroit, Mich., Feb. 26.—Perry Mattison, an employe of the Sulphite fibre works on the river Rouge at Delray met a horrible death by falling into a vat of boiling sulphuric acid.

The vat is located in the rear of the works and is about five feet deep. It is supposed that Mattison was sitting on the edge of the vat and being overcome by the fumes, fell back into it. When the body was found it had been terribly scalded and burned by the acid.

FRUIT INJURED.

Carlyle, Ill., Feb. 26.—The cold weather experienced during the month of January and February has injured the fruit crop in this section of the state. Hunting for a Soldier to Take a Crack at.

Tennessee Convict Labor Trouble is Far From Being Settled and Blood Will Yet be Spilled.

Chattanooga, Tenn., Feb. 26.—James B. Hawkins, member of the legislature from this county, who was elected on the labor platform, returned yesterday from Coal Creek. He talked with soldiers and miners alike and reports the condition very alarming. He said to-day:

"The situation is very serious. About one-half the miners go around all the time with shotguns on their shoulders as if they were hunting squirrels.

"All carry pistols and make no secret of it. If you wake up any time at night you can hear a volley being fired.

"I interviewed at least twenty of the business men of Coal Creek and Briceville in regard to the miners firing on Fort Anderson last Thursday night and at other times. They were unanimous in saying that they believed it was the militia doing the firing themselves.

"I also talked to some of the military officers. They claim that the camp was being fired upon and a detail was sent out to arrest the parties shooting. The miners say if any of their number is ever shot by the soldiers they will rally 3,000 men and make a charge upon Fort Anderson.

'As governor of the state I hereby officially call attention to the great calamity and to the organized efforts inaugurated to relieve the starving Russian peasants.

"Confident that the citizens of this commonwealth will bountifully contribute, I appeal to the various mercantile bodies, religious and benevolent and charitable associations, and to the people of Ohio generally, in their individual capacity, to put themselves in communication with the Russian famine relief committee, 732 Fourteenth street, Washington, D. "In testimony thereof I have hereunto subscribed my name and caused the great seal of the state of Ohio to be affixed, at Columbus, on the 26th day of February in year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and ninety-two, and the one hundred and sixteenth year of the independence of the United States.

A CRAZY RULER

Occupies the Throne of Germany.

Such is the Opinion of the Berlin People,

Who Have Watched Closely Emperor William.

Another Country with a Crisis on Hand.

The Rumblings of Discontent Can be Heard All Over the Land—Echoes From the Rioting of Yesterday.

Berlin, Feb. 26.—The citizens of Berlin have passed one of the most restless nights in the memory of the present generation. The echoes of yesterday's rioting before the castle of the Emperor William of Germany, at the end of the Unter den Linden, spread not only far into the night; but the embers of the affair were still glowing fiercely this morning.

From sunset until sunrise encounters between the police and the rioters continued at intervals in different parts of the city, mostly, however, in the eastern districts.

Heads were broken right and left, and the police captured many more prisoners. Throughout the night the entire police force of the city was kept on duty, and in several quarters detachments of troops were kept under arms.

It is difficult to picture the state of wild excitement and amazement which prevails here, and, according to the newspapers of this city, in all European capitals.

Such an occurrence as that witnessed yesterday would not have caused much comment had it happened in Paris or even in London, where encounters between the police and large bodies of the people are not infrequent.

But here in Berlin, the rioting of yesterday attains a point of very great significance. It revealed, as it by a thunder clap, the fact that the emperor is most unpopular with the masses and that the people are beginning to feel convinced that the words recently attributed to the emperor must be vaporings of a crowned madman, and that the ruler of the German empire is suffering from dementia.

This is the conclusion that people here are gradually coming to, and there is no doubt that the empire is in danger.

It is not intended by this to intimate that it is probable that the empire will soon be swept away by the waves of a revolutionary movement; the time for that upheaval has not arrived. But the mutterings of a threatening storm are heard in the distance, and the flashes of lightning were seen yesterday and the rumbling of the thunder was heard from night until morning.

It is felt that the emperor, by announcing to the Brandenburgers that he had flung down the gauntlet to the people, and that he would drive from their homes and into the exile of emigration all those who opposed his will, gave the signal for the struggle between himself as "I am the state," and the people of the empire who are asserting their right to have their wrongs redressed by their sovereign.

The emperor, it is recalled, at a previous Brandenburg banquet exclaimed: "There is only one ruler in the country; I am that ruler and will endure no other," and it is remembered that at Munich, a short time ago, he wrote in the visitor's book: "The supreme law of the land is the king's will."

These and other such sayings credited to the emperor have not passed unheeded in Germany and have left an impression on the hearts of the people.

It was stated in these dispatches yesterday that the emperor watched the rioting from the windows of an apartment on the first story of the castle. It is now added that he smiled, though his face was deadly pale, when he saw the people beaten down beneath the swords of the police.

Everything that it is possible to bring up against the emperor is consequently now being recited and revamped, burnished and repainted in more glowing colors by the socialists and others who feel most bitter against the German emperor, and people say that if he imagines himself equal to the deity time will show that he has made a very great mistake in so imagining.

The Vossische Zeitung for instance, remarks that if all the discontented left the country nobody would be left but Catholics, and the Vowarts expresses the opinion that if the emperor's invitation to emigrants is accepted, the emperor would rule over a desert.

Rioting Again.

The authorities during the night were greatly alarmed, and it was evident that they expected further disturbances would follow this morning. In consequence they took the greatest precautions to promptly suppress any additional rioting.

The supposition of the authorities of this city that there would be more rioting was well founded, for soon after the breakfast hour groups of angry people, enraged at the treatment they had been subjected to yesterday and during the night by the police, began to gather in different parts of the city and discuss the riot, its object and its result.

Loud and deep were the curses hurled at the emperor and the police and eagerly listened to were the utterances of the socialist speakers who seemed here, there and everywhere. But, strange to say, the latter as a rule, advocated the adoption of the policy of moderation.

The first blow has been struck, they claimed, and the people should wait to see its effect before taking further action. The reichstag, it was claimed, would now be compelled to make a real inquiry into the grievances of the people and nothing would be gained by a second demonstration at present, especially as the immense military and police force of the city was under arms and was ready for any emergency.

During the night, it was added, a battery of rapid fire guns had been smuggled into the castle and many other preparations had been made to mow down the people should there be any opportunity given the authorities to do so.

The report also had it that the emperor was in favor of "teaching the rioters a lesson which they would not soon forget;" hence the desire of the leaders of the people that there should be no further demonstration.

But these wise counsels, while having due effect upon the masses, were not listened to by the more excited portion of the men who had taken part in yesterday's fighting, and as the day wore on, the small group of people became larger, in spite of the efforts of the police to disperse all such gatherings, and it became evident that further trouble was brewing.

Give Us Bread or Work.

At about noon a body of three or four hundred men gathered together and sang the "Marseillaise," after which, their number having been considerably augmented, they marched through the Brandenburg gate to Unter derr Linden, shouting: "Give us work or bread." "Give us work or bread." "We and our families are starving."

These cries were soon followed by the more alarming one, "To the castle," which was heard as frequently and loudly yesterday about the same place. The majority of these men were simply unemployed workmen, but the advanced socialistic element was to be found among them in the directing of the movement.

The cries mentioned were mingled with bitter denunciations of the emperor, of the police, and of the authorities generally.

On to the Castle.

When the rioters, then numbering about a thousand men, reached a spot well up to the castle, they joined in a loud shout of "to the castle," and led by a few men who seemed to be the leaders of this demonstration, they pushed on towards the emperor's castle.

They had not gone far, however, when they were met by a strong force of police, who advanced upon them in a most determined manner.

There was a short, sharp fight and the rioters were put to flight, melting away like snow beneath the sunshine. The police made a show of pursuing the fleeing rioters, but it was evident that the authorities were content with having dispersed the mob, and that a regular pursuit was not on the program.

There was not much real fighting during this encounter between the police and people. The engagement was very quickly over and the rioters were soon convinced that the authorities were complete masters of the situation.

A few of the rioters were captured, it is true, and they were very roughly handled by the police; but to-day's demonstration did not compare with that of yesterday either in point of size or significance. It was more like the last remains of yesterday's riot than a riot in itself. The other districts of Berlin are quiet, but the full force of police is on duty, and extra men are guarding the public buildings.

Popular sympathy is overwhelmingly in favor of the people and there is little doubt that the matters complained of by the working-men will soon be ventilated in the reichstag where a most lively debate is anticipated.

The socialists deputies propose to make a most bitter arraignment of the police who are charged with having behaved with the utmost brutality yesterday towards women as well as men in suppressing the demonstration of the unemployed.

It is recalled that at a recent meeting of the reichstag, Herr Khardoff demanded the enactment of more stringent laws in order to control the newspapers, clubs, and political meetings, and in order, be said, to prevent the state from falling into the hands of the socialists.

To this it is also mentioned Herr Barth replied that the Right wanted to "provoke a conflict probably leading to civil war."

It was advice based upon such reason as that of Herr Barth which, undoubtedly, served to calm the masses yesterday and to-day, and which may have prevented much bloodshed. But nobody imagines that the trouble is ended. There may be no further rioting at present, but a struggle between the emperor and the people is admitted to have commenced.

The Emperor Furious.

It is known that the emperor is furious with rage caused by the popular outbreaks of yesterday, and especially at the story circulated to the effect that he was trembling with fear while standing at the window yesterday, looking at the battle between the rioters and the police.

It is doubtful if the emperor was trembling with fear. He was, however, very pale, but this is more likely to have been due to excitement.

From the behavior of the police in driving away the body of rioters which appeared to-day, it is judged that the authorities have received the most stringent orders not to spare the people if there was any additional disturbance, for they did not wait for the mob to approach them, but charged furiously at them, hitting and pricking at the workmen with their swords.

They refrained from pursuit, however; but this was possibly due to the fact that the detachment of police referred to had been detained for special duty on the Unter den Linden, and that so soon as the rioters were driven off that boulevard they considered that their share of the business was accomplished.

The police detachment, it should be added, behaved with the greatest brutality throughout the day, dispersing with kicks and blows from their swords the most peaceful gatherings of citizens.

In addition to this a military cordon was established, preventing the approach of any one within 300 yards of the castle.

AUSTRALIA WILL TURN OUT

Five Thousand Coming to the Fair.

They Are an Enterprising People and Will Make a Display at the Exposition.

Washington, Feb. 26.—Col. Alexander Campbell, of West Virginia, world's fair commissioner to Australia and New Zealand, has just returned from an extended visit to those countries and brings back assurances that they will be represented at the world's fair by magnificent exhibits.

Col. Campbell during his journey visited New South Wales, Queensland, Victoria, Tasmania, South and West Australia and New Zealand.

"In all places," he said, "I found much interest in the Columbian fair. They believe it will be the grandest exhibition of the age, and liberal appropriations are being made to make rich exhibits.

"A large number of commissioners are also being appointed to take charge of these exhibits. Among the articles which will be displayed are wool, New Zealand flax, jars, wood used for street pavements, ores, and New Zealand works of art.

"I also visited Colombo, Ceylon, and found that 200,000 rupees, equal to $70,000, had been appropriated for the Ceylon exhibit. Last year Ceylon exported 70,000,000 pounds of tea, and a good part of it was sent to this country. In Australia I met many friends I had made when I visited there in 1888 as United States commissioner to the Australian fair.

"The distance between Sydney and San Francisco is 2,000 miles shorter than from Sydney to London. Arrangements are now being made with the Union Steamship company of New Zealand to run three steamships from Sydney to San Francisco during the world's fair. It is estimated that fully 5,000 Australians will visit Chicago."

CHARGED WITH FORGERY.

A Wheeling Brakeman Gets Into Trouble.

It is Claimed He Signed Another Man's Name to the Pay Roll and Drew $51.66.

Norwalk, O., Feb. 26.—(Special)—C. E. Knapp, a brakeman on the Wheeling & Lake Erie railroad, was arrested this morning by Marshal Burton on a charge of forgery.

It is claimed he signed the name of O. Leingruber to the Wheeling & Lake Erie pay roll in the paymaster's car yesterday and drew $51.66 belonging to Leingruber.

Knapp claims he is not the person who drew the money. It is claimed by those on the car that the person who stopped the pay car between Bellevue and Monroeville, and rode to the latter place, is the same person who drew Leingruber's pay.

Knapp admits he was the person who stopped the car. The warrant for his arrest was sworn out by W. S. Wade, agent of the road here.

The prisoner was arraigned before Justice Martin, and in default of bail of $500, was placed in jail. Knapp is about 25 years of age and lives in Cleveland.

NEW SONG BY STACKHOUSE.

Dedicated to Geo. W. Stevens and Sung by Comedian Kohnle.

Mr. Will S. Stackhouse, of this city, has written many songs that have become popular, but his last composition, which is now in the publisher's hands, promises to eclipse them all. Those who have had the pleasure of hearing bits of it say that it is, in professional language, a "corker." It is a topical song and will be sung by Mr. Kohnle, comedian of the Wilbur Opera company. The song is dedicated to Geo. W. Stevens, of the Toledo Bee.

Turn to the right medicine, if you're a weak or ailing woman. It's Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. If you're overworked or "run-down," it builds you up; if you're afflicted with any of the distressing derangements and disorders peculiar to your sex, it relieves and cures. It improves digestion, invigorates the system, enriches the blood, dispels aches and pains, melancholy and nervousness, produces refreshing sleep, and restores flesh and strength. In the cure of all functional disturbances, weaknesses, and irregularities, it's guaranteed to give satisfaction, or the money is refunded. It does all that's claimed for it, or it couldn't be sold in this way.

That's the peculiar plan all Dr. Pierce's medicines are sold on.

It is a legitimate medicine—not a beverage. Contains no alcohol to inebriate; no syrup or sugar to sour or ferment in the stomach and cause distress. As peculiar in its marvelous, remedial results as in its composition.

WANTS PROPERTY BACK.

Because the Conveyor Was Not in Right Mind When Disposed Of.

The plaintiff's petition states that the property was owned by James McPartland, deceased, but that before his death it was conveyed to Mary McPartland, his daughter, and the plaintiff's sister, for $1,000, and the property is worth $10,000. The petition states that the deceased was not in his right mind and incapacitated mentally, to make a deed or convey property.

BOOM TA RA TIME.

The Elks and Members of the Fairies' Well Company.

The curtain rolled up last evening on a very boom ta ra gathering of the Toledo Elks. It was a social session and 'way out of sight. Messrs. Ed Anderson, Geo. H. Timmons, James H. Manning, W. O. Edmonds and Wm. McGonagle, of the Fairies' Well company, dropped in the latter part of the evening, and did some singing and dancing just to help the thing along. Chas. O'Brien also sang in his inimitable manner. Geo. and Gus. Leibius sang and danced. The greatest orchestra on earth, Will Stackhouse, was right there. C. L. Lewis also did some enjoyable singing and Frank Aulette had his violin with him. There were refreshments until you couldn't rest, and it was a very social session indeed.

ANOTHER PRECINCT

Wanted by the Republicans of the Ninth Ward.

The Ninth Ward Republican club met last evening and passed half the time in making arrangements to regain lost ground in the spring. Committeemen were appointed from the precincts to wake up the dormant voters, and perform such other duties as the exigencies of the occasion demand.

The club was notified that their lease of the lot on which Lincoln hall stands had expired, and the owner wants $300 ground rent. It was decided to fold the tent and silently move elsewhere.

Messrs. Kirkby, Baumbach and Nicholas were appointed to wait on the election board to endeavor to have another precinct created. This duty was performed this morning, and the election board will consider the matter.

LAGRANGE STREET PAVEMENT.

George E. Pomeroy's Views as to the Job.

Mr. Geo. E. Pomeroy, in speaking of the action of the street committee on the Lagrange street paving, said to a Bee today: "It is well known by every observing taxpayer that wood pavement laid on clay or a filled street will not stand. It almost immediately becomes uneven, and decay sets in promptly, because of lack of drainage. The drainage cannot be artifically obtained, so as to make a street so paved a durable highway, as the moisture will stand in the earth long enough to saturate the blocks.

"Now, Lagrange street, from Champlain to Bancroft, has had a big fill, and a wood pavement there would be folly. As I own property on Lagrange street on the proposed improvement and also on that part north of Bancroft, which was paved last year with cedar block, the force of the argument is easy for me to see. North of Bancroft the street is mainly sand-loam, hence if the pavement has been put down honestly it will stand. But from Champlain to Bancroft nothing but brick or stone should go down. Lagrange street is one of the great thoroughfares to Michigan and a good pavement will double the value of property, while one built of wood will be a makeshift."

OVERWHELMING EVIDENCE!

Of the Success of Dr. Copeland and Associates at 706 Madison Street.

Statements that are Candid, Straightforward and Convincing, and From Persons Whose Evidence Is Beyond Dispute.

It is rarely that the specialist, whose observation covers a wide range of throat and lung troubles and whose experience brings him in contact with many of the serious and desperate cases resulting from neglected catarrh, sees a more pronounced case and one more typical of what head and throat trouble, if neglected or not properly treated, may develop into, than the case of Mr. Ancil G. Rice, of 219 Dix street. As near as possible we give his own words:

"My trouble has all been due to chronic catarrh," says Mr. Rice, "and it was not neglected, either, for I

Have Doctored for Years,

but been improperly treated. I had occasional violent headaches. My eyes were weak and watery and my nose was continually stopped up. I was forced to breathe through my mouth.

Ancil G. Rice, 219 Dix Street.

"My throat was always filling up with the dropping of the mucus from the head. I was hawking and spitting all the time. My throat was at times very sore and raw. My rest was poor at night and I was really unfit for business in the morning.

"As I said, I tried many prominent physicians, but experienced very little relief. I had heard and read of the success of Dr. Copeland and associates, and concluded to give them a trial. I did so with the result that my pains, aches and other troubles are all gone. The change in my condition is such that I unhesitatingly recommend Dr. Copeland and associates to all who suffer as I did."

NASAL POLYPI.

This Annoying and Painful Disease Described by a Victim.

(Nasal polypi are tumors that grow in the nasal cavities. They obstruct the passage of air through the nose, swell up in damp weather, or decrease somewhat in fair weather. They give rise to frontal headaches, fits of sneezing, coughing, asthma, facial neuralgia, pains in the neck and chest, and impair or destroy the senses of smell, taste or hearing. The breath often has a peculiar "mousy" odor, the margins of the nostrils become raw and excoriated, the eyes are watery and the voice has a nasal twang.)

"I had been troubled for a number of years," said Mr. George Hoffman, of 107 Empire street. "My head and nose was completely stopped up and I had to breathe through my mouth. This was due, in a measure, to the accumulation of mucus, but more especially to a number of polypi tumors which filled both nostrils. I had treated with a number of physicians but none of them discovered the tumors. Some time ago I called on Dr. Copeland and associates, and placed myself under their treatment. They immediately removed seven polypi tumors and I was able to breathe through my nostrils, something I had not done in years. They then treated my catarrh, and I am happy to say I am feeling better to-day than I have for years. The removal of the tumors was without the slightest pain or loss of blood. I cannot recommend Dr. Copeland and associates too highly."

FROM OUT OF TOWN.

Results in a Case Treated by Mail.

Portage, O., Feb. 9, 1892.

Copeland Medical Institute, Toledo, O.:

Gentlemen:—Since taking your treatment for catarrh, I am very much better. My general health is much improved, my sense of smell has returned. My case was a chronic one and will require time. I am greatly encouraged and anticipate a complete cure. Refer anyone to me.

Yours respectfully,
N. C. BESANSON.

ANOTHER INSTANCE.

A Prominent Real Estate Agent Tells of the Removal of Twenty Polypi Tumors.

Among the many prominent real estate agents in Toledo, none are more popular or more favorably known than Mr. J. J. Sumner, whose offices are at the corner of Superior and Madison streets, and who lives at 721 Prouty avenue. Mr. Sumner tells of his experience with Dr. Copeland and associates as follows:

"I had catarrh for a long time. My nose stopped up so that I could breathe only with great difficulty. In damp weather I could not breathe at all. I suffered from terrible, racking headaches. I often thought my head would burst with the throbbing and the pain. There was the constant flow of mucus from my nose, and my eyes became sore and watery. I did not sleep well, and I found that I was losing my sense of smell. I was most distressed, however, about my voice, which changed in tone until it sounded as if I pinched my nose with my fingers while talking.

"I was quite in despair, when after reading the testimonials of the patients of Dr. Copeland and associates I determined to make a trial of their treatment. I accordingly went to the Copeland Medical Institute, and it was only a short time until I began to breathe through my nose, until the headaches disappeared and until the polypus growths were removed. I can now hear the natural voice that has returned to me, much to my comfort and delight. I sleep well and I feel well. I have only one fear, and that is that the polypi may return, so I have concluded to continue the treatment for another month, at the end of which time I shall be forever rid, I hope, of the complaint that for four years made life a burden to me. I am glad to add my small tribute of praise to the splendid work of these physicians."

No Action Taken on the Silver Question.

Caucus of the Democrats Last Night.

Free Silver Men in Majority in the Lower Body—Senators Refuse to Join the Compromise.

Washington, Feb. 26.—The democratic members of the house met in conference last night pursuant to a call issued by Representative Holman, chairman of the caucus, for the purpose of considering the following resolutions which are now published as submitted to the caucus, having been revised since the request for the call was circulated by Representative Harter, of Ohio:

Resolved, That we are in favor of the continued use of both gold and silver as money, and that we are unalterably opposed to any legislation which will drive either metal out of general circulation.

Resolved, That in justice to the democratic party, and with due consideration for the general business, industrial and financial interests of the nation, we deem it the duty of democratic members of the Fifty-second congress to defer definite action on the subject of free coinage until the question of its wisdom and justice has been distinctly made in the elections of 1892.

The call continues: "We ask you further to invite the democratic members of the senate to this conference."

It was a wet, disagreeable night for a caucus conference, as it was called, and members came to the capitol rather slowly, so it was 8 o'clock instead of 7:30 when Chairman Holman called the caucus to order. At that time many more members had arrived and the caucus was very well attended.

If Mr. Harter expected the invitation to the democratic senators to be present would be generally accepted he was mistaken, for Mr. Butler, of South Carolina, was the only senator present. A number of the leading democratic senators were asked during the day if they intended to attend the conference. All declared they would not do so, and that they had enough to occupy them with affairs on their side of the capitol.

The usual rule limiting speeches in the caucus to five minutes was adopted. Mr. Harter, of Ohio, opened the proceedings with a speech in which he stated the object he had in view when he circulated the call for the caucus. In accordance with a program which had been outlined at a conference between Messrs. Bland, Pierce, Robertson, and other earnest free silver men, the question was put to the antis whether or not they would agree to be bound by the caucus proceedings.

After some little discussion it was agreed that the conference should not be regarded as binding upon any one and the members should be free to vote as they chose. In stating the object of the caucus Mr. Harter made a speech against the advisability of passing a free coinage bill.

Mr. Bland, of Missouri, then offered a resolution instructing the committee on rules to bring in a special order fixing March 25 as the date on which the silver bill should be taken up, discussed, and kept before the house until finally acted on.

Against this resolution Mr. Warner, of New York, raised a point of order, claiming that under the call in response to which the members were present the resolution could not be considered.

The point of order was promptly overruled and no appeal was taken from this decision. Speeches were made by Messrs. Bland, Bryan, of Nebraska, Fowler of New Jersey, and Hooker of Mississippi, in favor of the Bland resolution.

Mr. Williams, of Massachusetts, spoke in opposition to the resolution, declaring disaster to the democratic party in the east. Mr. Williams then appealed to the southern members to stand by the eastern democrats, who, he said, had stood by the south against an elections bill.

Mr. Wilcox of Connecticut, English of New Jersey, and McKinney of New Hampshire, made speeches against the Bland resolution. The debate grew somewhat tiresome, and as it was evident that any conclusion reached would not be binding, members were in favor of adjournment.

Mr. Oats of Alabama, a free coinage man, therefore, moved to adjourn. He said the anti-free coinage men had stated that they would not be bound by the caucus action. He had assurances that the committee on rules would, if the Bland resolution were not adopted, bring in a rule making the Bland bill a special order. He saw no advantage to be gained by a row among the democrats. It was evident the free coinage men were in the majority, but no good could come of forcing a vote.

A split occurred among the free coinage men over the motion to adjourn, some favoring caucus adoption of the Bland resolution. It was finally decided, however, to adjourn—80 to 55.

The result of the caucus seems to be that the silver question is left just about where it was before the caucus was held, the silver men evidently being in a majority, but the minority being unwilling to be bound by caucus action.

This leaves the matter with the rules committee to decide whether or not a special order shall be brought in. Members of the committee have assured the silver men such an order will be made and then all members of the house are free to vote as they see fit on the adoption of the report of the rule committee.

Indiana Democrats.

The Indiana delegation in congress held a meeting, and the result is discouraging to the anti-silver men. The opponents of free silver have been looking to Mr. Bynum of this delegation, with considerable hope, as a strong democrat who would rally to his support quite a little strength on any proposition to postpone a vote on the free coinage bill until next session.

It has been stated that after the silver bill had been debated for a week or more Mr. Bynum would move the postponement of further discussion. These reports, however, will not be verified, for Mr. Bynum said he would go with his state delegation. At the conference it was ascertained that the majority of the Indiana democrats in congress were free coinage men. No attempt was made to bind any one, but nevertheless all present agreed to act as a unit on this question and to vote against postponement of the free coinage bill and in favor of its passage.

The delegation, it is said, has always acted together, and it was felt that as the sentiment of the democrats of the state was favorable to free silver coinage, there was no occasion for a split on the silver issue.

A POSTOFFICE MYSTERY.

Money Package Finds Its Way to the Dead Letter Office.

Manchester, N. H., Feb. 26.—The postoffice authorities here are engaged in unravelling a mystery. Shortly before New Years a letter was mailed to a lady in Franklin. It was made up of letters cut from a newspaper and so arranged as to read: "Will you be convinced? Wish you a happy New Year."

It contained a large sum of money in United States greenbacks. The lady to whom it was addressed refused to receive it, and it was sent to the dead letter office, whence it was forwarded here for investigation. Unless its sender appears the money will be turned into the national treasury.

The President and Wife on a Vacation.

Washington, Feb. 26.—The president, accompanied by Mrs. Harrison, Mrs. Dimmick, the McKee children, Private Secretary Halford, and two maids, left the Baltimore & Potomac station in this city at 11:06 o'clock this morning for Virginia Beach, via Petersburg and Richmond. The party occupied the private car "Isaak Walton," which was attached to the regular fast mail. The train is due to reach Norfolk at 5:30, where a change will be made to the Narrow guage road to Virginia Beach. Only a few persons were at the station to see the party off.

DESERTED THEIR CHILD.

Young Raughan and Wife Arrested Last Night.

The Man Walked Right Into the Clutches of the Law—An Old Story.

W. J. Raughan, a fly young man who thinks he is very swell, but who is in reality a heartless scamp, was arrested last night for deserting his child, and his wife was arrested on the same charge, though she is the least to blame.

The story is an old one, yet with every repetition it seems more repugnant. Mrs. Raughan's maiden name was Lizzie Nye, and she is only 19 years old. Last year, it is alleged, young Raughan seduced her, and when matters began to get interesting they were married at Monroe, Mich., on October 22. The child was born on January 2.

Shortly after the couple took the baby boy to Mrs. Blanchard, on George street, agreeing to pay her $3 per week for taking care of it. They immediately disappeared, and Mrs. Blanchard saw them no more. When it became apparent that they had deserted their child, she reported the matter to the infirmary authorities and for several weeks they have been looking for the heartless parents.

Yesterday it was discovered that Mrs. Raughan was working as a servant on Ashland avenue, and the young woman was arrested last evening by Detective Kruse and taken to the police station.

The whereabouts of the husband were not known, but about an hour later he appeared at the police station, inquiring for his wife. Lieut. Robinson invited him inside his office where the wife was sitting and informed him that he would be obliged to stay.

Infirmary Superintendent Kirkby and Director Baumbach were at once sent for, and when they arrived Mr. and Mrs. Raughan were put through a rigid cross-examination. They admitted the facts as stated above, and it was further developed that the wife had been supporting her husband and had paid for all the fine clothes he was wearing. Raughan is 24 years old, but did not seem to be the least concerned over what he had done, nor was he the least shamed by the damaging facts with which he was confronted. He was then locked up in the prison below and Mrs. Raughan was given in charge of Matron Stebbins.

It is the intention of the infirmary authorities to prosecute Raughan to the fullest extent, and he will be obliged to provide for his child.

TOLEDO 'SQUIRES.

Shall They be Put on Regular Salary,

Instead of Being Remunerated by Fees, as at Present—Some Views on the Subject.

A bill was introduced in the legislature this week, placing justices of the peace in Columbus on a regular salary of $1,500, $400 for clerk hire, and $200 for office rent, and compelling the justices to collect all fees and make return under oath to the city treasurer. Hamilton and Cuyahoga county justices are already on a salary, and the plan is said to work well. To get the ideas of attorneys on the subject, a Bee this morning conversed with a few to learn whether Toledo should not be added to the bill, and the result follows:

F. B. Swayne—"In my opinion the object of the bill is a proper one and should be applicable to Toledo. The proposed arrangment makes the incumbent strictly independent and impartial in the case. Under the present system the justice of the peace may unconsciously be biased by a feeling that if he should decide the case one way or the other, he would not have to do the work for nothing in the case. Again a salary of $1,500 would probably secure the acceptance of the office by quite good lawyers, whereas in many instances it is sought after by men who have little else to do and take the office rather than do nothing."

Harry E. King—"It is a proper measure and one I think should prevail with regard to Toledo. We are all human, and not fond of doing work for nothing. Not that any of our officials would be guilty of deciding a case to their own interest, regardless of law or justice, but I think such a temptation should be removed."

L. G. Richardson—"Most assuredly I am in favor of such a bill with reference to Toledo. None should be eligible to the office, but attorneys who have been properly admitted to the bar, etc."

Steven Brophy—"The custom prevails in Detroit and Cleveland and I know of no reason why it should not be made applicable to Toledo. The salary should be sufficient so as to obtain the service of a good attorney, and no other should be eligible."

Clement Carpenter—"The salary system is all right if it be made, modest, but adequate to the duties and responsibilities of the office."

F. W. Rickenbaugh—"It is a good plan and should be in force in Toledo. It would be better for the litigant and the officials themselves, and would insure fair and impartial decisions."

George Boone—"I think salaries would be preferable, and steps should be taken to place the Toledo offices on this basis."

J. H. Southard—"I am heartily in favor of the measure for Toledo. It would be a good thing for all concerned and a great improvement over the present system."

TOLEDO LOSES ONE.

The Cot and Wringer Works Will Locate at Fremont.

Mr. L. S. Baumgardner's Visit, as Announced Yesterday, Was to Close the Deal.

The Cot and Wringer works will be removed to Fremont.

Since the fire the management has been considering several propositions to locate the plant elsewhere, among which was a flattering offer from Fremont. Mr. Baumgardner went down yesterday and closed up the deal.

The work of moving will begin next Monday morning. A fully equipped furniture factory was bought by the company at very good figures, which will be utilized in establishing the plant. About 50 employes will move to Fremont. The office will be left to Toledo.

Legislative Proceedings in Columbus.

A Move to Repeal the Rawlings Bill.

The Measure Referred to the Agriculture Committee After a Warm Contest—Another Constitutional Amendment.

Columbus, Feb. 26.—(Special)—The people of Ohio will again have a chance to witness the old fight of last winter between the farmers and manufacturers, as Senator Fox has introduced a bill to repeal the Rawlings bill of last winter.

The bill re-enacts the old law governing the listing of property for taxation, but the new measure provides that certain farm products in the provision of the producer, which were raised the year before, shall be exempt from taxation. The author of last winter's bill says the latter part of Fox's bill is unconstitutional and he will bitterly oppose its passage.

When the bill was read the second time this morning there was a contest as to whether it should go to the committee on finance, manufacture and commerce or agriculture.

The farmers, led by Rawlings, who was the author of last winter's legislation, succeeded in knocking the lawyers out by sending the bill to the committee on agriculture.

It is now put to sleep as the farmers will not allow any measure passed that will make them pay more taxes.

Heating Cars by Steam.

The following is a full text of the bill passed by the house yesterday to regulate the heating of passenger cars by steam:

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of Ohio, That it shall not be lawful for any steam railroad doing business in this state after the first day of September, 1893, to heat passenger cars on other than mixed trains by any stove or furnace, except it may be lawful in case of accident or other emergency to temporarily use such stove or furnace with necessary fuel; provided, that in cars which have been equipped with apparatus to heat by steam, hot water or hot air from the locomotive or from a special car, the present stove may be retained to be used only when the car is standing still. And provided, also, that this act shall not apply to railroads less than 40 miles in length, nor to the use of stoves of a pattern and kind to be approved by the commissioner of railroads and telegraphs for cooking purposes in dining-room cars.

Sec. 2. Any person or corporation violating any of the provisions of this act shall be liable to a penalty of $1,000, and a further penalty of $100 dollars for each and every day during which such violation shall continue.

Sec. 3. This act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passege.

Higher Education for Blind.

Mr. Kean introduced a bill providing that the state shall assist in the further education of a graduate from the blind asylum by paying for tuition, board, books, etc., at a musical conservatory in this state for three years, providing the graduate is a resident of Ohio, or in a college for four years after being recommended by the superintendent, board of trustees and teachers in the library or musical department of the institution from which he graduated and expenses incurred shall be paid by the steward when same is approved by the board of trustees.

Bills Introduced in the Senate.

The following bills were introduced in the senate yesterday afternoon:

Mr. Bain—To require county commissioners to advertise for bids in awarding all contracts involving the expenditure of all sums over $400 dollars.

Mr. Parker—To repeal the law providing for struck juries.

Mr. Shaw—To authorize the special school district of Fort Recovery to issue $5,000 in bonds to pay outstanding indebtedness.

Mr. Bain—To require municipal councils to advertise for competitive bids in awarding contracts involving the expenditure of any sum above $200.

Mr. Shaw—Authorizing Fort Recovery to make a special levy of two mills for school purposes.

Mr. Gear—To provide that farmers shall not be required to return for statistical purposes the number of bushels of grain raised per acre.

Bills Introduced in the House.

Thirty-four bills were introduced in the house late yesterday afternoon and one local measure was passed and the following were of a general nature:

Mr. Brittain—Amending section 6982 so as to extend the provision of the act prohibiting the boarding of moving railroad trains to electric railways, and increasing the penalty by adding imprisonment to the fine.

Mr. Heinlein—Providing for separate ballot boxes where an election precinct is made up of parts of a township and municipality, so that electors may vote separately for township and municipal officers.

Mr. Laylin—To prevent the placing of obstructions on public foot and sidewalks constructed by township trustees.

Mr. Gaumer—Amending section 3 of the building and loan association law so as to provide that depositors shall not receive more than 6 per cent. on their deposits.

Mr. Gilliland—To correct an error in an act providing for improvements so as to make it apply to Middlepoint in Van Wert county. Passed.

Mr. Bruck (by request)—Rendering more easy and effective garnishee attachments in magistrates' courts.

Mr. Dodge—Repealing the act passed in 1850 authorizing the state to transfer swamp lands to the counties in which they lie.

Mr. Tischbein—Permitting councils of cites where electric and cable street railroads are operated to pass ordinances requiring the posting of watchmen at dangerous crossings.

Mr. Molter—Exempting cities of the second class, third grade, from the requirement of having the city clerk certify previous to condemnation proceedings.

Mr. Reeve—Providing a penalty for the malicious killing and wounding of tresspassing cattle.

Mr. Taylor (Guernsey)—To release deposits of insurance companies withdrawing from business in the state.

Swamp Lands.

The senate has adopted Mr. Gear's senate joint resolution providing for the appointment of a committee to examine the right of persons to hold swamp lands deeded to Ohio. The resolution looks toward the abolishment of the office of swamp land commissioner, who has been enriching himself at the expense of tax payers.

Postponed.

The senate postponed Mr. McConica's bill to allow the consolidation of railroad companies until next Thursday and Mr. Gear's bill to protect railroad employes.

Gov. McKinley sent the name of W. I. Chamberlain, president of the Iowa agricultural college to the senate for trustee of the Ohio State university, and gave his residence Summit county. The position is now being filled by State Commissioner of Schools Miller, of Erie.

Public Printing.

Senator Van Cleaf this morning offered a joint resolution to have the constitutional amendment submitted to the electors next year so that all state printing may be let on contract to the lowest responsible bidder; or general assembly may provide for a printing establishment which shall do all the printing for the state under the supervision of a supervisor of public printing. Referred to committee on public printing.

Griffin and Flickinger.

When Mr. Gear's resolution to appoint a committee to investigate the swamp land question was read in the house this morning, a motion was made to refer it to the committee on public works, of which Mr. Flickinger is chairman.

This brought Griffin to his feet, who said it would be just as appropriate to refer it to the committee on insane or idiotic asylums, as they would know just as much about the matter.

This sarcastic thrust at Mr. Flickinger caused the members to look towards his seat, but he made no reply and the resolution was ordered on the calendar for Tuesday next.

It is expected that there will be war when it comes up for adoption.

Bills Introduced in the Senate.

Mr. Van Cleaf—Authorizing the board of trustees of all school districts to purchase Howe's History of Ohio, the price not to exceed $3 a volume.

Mr. Hildebrand—To provide that sentence of persons convicted of misdemeanors shall become cumulative after the third offense and fixing the penalty at from one to three years in the penitentiary.

Notes.

Senate has passed Carney's house bill to authorize Benton Ridge school district, Hancock county, to levy a special tax of five mills to erect a new school house.

Representative Griffin yesterday afternoon secured reconsideration of Mr. Doty's bill to allow woman to have a voice and vote in school affairs. It was made a special order for next Wednesday at 11 o'clock.

Yesterday afternoon the senate passed the bill by Taylor, of Champaign, providing that owners of stallions or jacks shall have a lien on the "get" of the same, for a period of eight months after its foal to insure time for breeding the same..

The senate committee on railroads and telegraphs has recommended the passage of Senator Shaw's bill compelling sleeping cars to provide a place for the deposit of valuables and money like hotels and make the sleeping cars companies responsible for any loss of such deposits.

MAJOR LEFLET

Appointed Fish and Game Warden

For Lucas County, and Will Proceed to Enforce the Law as Relates to Fishing—Warrant Issued To-Day.

Major Leflet has again been appointed Fish and Game Warden. The impression had gotten out that the laws governing fishing had been changed or done away with, and as a result several nets were placed in Ten Mile creek and persons have also been fishing with nets above Maumee bridge. As relates to the inland waters of Ohio there has not been but one change in the last five or six years, and under the law as it now stands, Major Leflet, when he was warden before obtained convictions in some twenty cases in all the courts of Lucas county. In fact, not a single case was ever lost that he prosecuted. The only change that has taken place in the law is fact that justices of the peace are now given final jurisdiction, and when a conviction is obtained before a justice there is no appeal, as that is the end of the case.

All the parties, but one, who are fishing in Ten Mile creek, will at once remove their nets. To-day Justice Merrell issued a warrant for the arrest of the party who refuses to remove his net.

Major Leflet says he will spare no effort to vigorously prosecute every violation of the law, and he hopes that all citizens will furnish him with such information as they can in regard to illegal hunting and fishing.

As relates to fishing, the laws in Lucas county have been pretty well enforced for the last six years; and with the most beneficial results. Fish in Ten Mile creek and up the Maumee river have increased with wonderful rapidity, and from these probably the most prolific spawning and hatching beds, in the county, Lake Erie has been supplied with millions and millions of young fish.

C., J. & M. REORGANIZATION

Something About the Plan Adopted.

Other Railroad Matters—Wabash Committees—The Passenger Men to Meet.

The articles of consolidation of the C., J. & M. branches have been drafted and adopted, and as soon as the time of legal notice, published in the various counties through which the road passes expires, will go into effect.

The capital stock under which the new corporation is organized is $16,300,000, divided into 163,000 shares of $100 each, all to be common stock.

The company will issue $48,000 first mortgage 4 per cent. bonds. The denomination will be $1,000 each, interest payable semi-annually and mature in 50 years from date.

There will be a complete revolution in the directory. Not more than two of the present members will be retained.

Cheap Travel on the Wabash.

The Wabash has announced that commutation tickets good between any two stations not exceeding 50 miles apart will be issued as follows:

Tickets for 52 rides, with one name on ticket, good for one month, one cent a mile; good for two months, 1 1-4 cents per mile; three months, 1 1-2 cents; six months, 2 cents per mile.

This is to accommodate those living in suburban towns and working in the city. This is better than the two cent bill would provide, think the officials.

The Passenger Men.

Chairman Donald, of the Central Traffic association, has called a meeting of the passenger men in this territory, at Chicago, Wednesday, March 2. The present rate fight in which the Columbus, Hocking Valley & Toledo, the Pennsylvania, B. & O. and Chicago & Erie roads are interested will be discussed, and if possible settled. Twelve applications for excursion rates have already been filed. Among the important ones for Ohio is the state G. A. R encampment, to be held at Piqua on May 10 and 12; the Ohio Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor, Akron, O., on June 27 to 29, and the National Editorial association meeting, to be held at San Francisco on May 18. In addition to the above the issue of an association summer tourists' rate sheet; change of rule 40 in reference to carrying animals in baggage cars; statistics of passenger business; inter-territorial party rates, "party rates" one way and round trip, and other interesting subjects will be considered.

Wheat Quotations for the Day—Price Current for Produce and Other Articles

London wheat market at opening quiet and slow; corn firm. Liverpool wheat quiet, demand light, quotations unchanged. Corn easier.

Liverpool received in past six days 557,700 bu. wheat of which 325,000 was American; and 276,000 bu. of corn.

The receipts of wheat at seven principal western points to-day are 621,667 bu. compared with 171,973 bu. on the same day last year.

The receipts of wheat to-day are larger than yesterday. Minneapolis and Duluth contribute 389,649 bu., and the other five western points 233,018 bu.

The export clearances yesterday from four Atlantic ports were: Wheat, 146,087 bu., and flour to an aggregate of 300,000 bu. The exports of corn were 375,930 bu., and of oats 27,155 bu.

English markets for wheat as reported herein, opened dull, but about steady in price for wheat and corn.

The Weather.

The clouds and rain and fog have disappeared, and the day is sunny and delightful. We are congratulating the country for each day of this propitious temperature after a general rain. It helps to clear the surface of water by evaporation and drying, against the risk of a "cold snap" to make ice on top of the wheat.

The Senate Option Bill.

There was a report yesterday that the senate committee would report on the Washburn bill adversely. We hope no grain man will take such a report to heart. It is about as sure, as anything that has not occurred that the committee will report some kind of a bill, and what ever that may be it will be decidedly adverse to all the exchanges. Congress cannot with any show of justice or success attempt to average the details of trading in this country, without adverse result. Members of congress do not know, and cannot know the effect on values of any kind of property by the trading in it by its citizens, and it has no right to pass such legislation. It is an attempt to usurp the power of a monarchy. It is oppressive, obnoxious, undemocratic, and un-American. It is based upon misrepresentation and falsehood, and the American people will be justified in organized resistance to all special and hateful legislation.

Sturdy Wheat Buyers.

The Chicago Tribune printed a column yesterday a. m. showing the interest of Mr. Rockefeller in wheat. We are very glad to know this. Wheat has needed some such sturdy support for a good while, and we believe he will make a good profit on his deal, if he will stand by it. Unless all the statements at harvest were lies the market can be carried up in this country with very little effort, and as fast as prices appreciate in this so will they appreciate in the old world markets. Of course we are now thinking of a seasonable advance, and not a foolish and prohibitory one.

The Markets To-Day.

There is nothing in the closing markets abroad that is worth noting. All are about unchanged. There is no other news of much import and prices of wheat and corn have been quite steady at a fractional decline. At the close the markets were weaker.

Corn has been nearly steady, with the fluctuations in buyers' favor.

In New York, February and May wheat closed 5-8c lower. February corn 1-8c lower, and May oats steady.

In Chicago May wheat closed 1-2c lower, and May corn 1-8c lower.

In Toledo the trading in wheat continues light. Opening sales indicated a decline of 3-8, but the market gained a little and then turned weak and closed at a loss of 1-2. On the call May wheat sold at 97 1-4 to 97 3-8. After the call May sold at 97 1-4 to 97 1-2 and closed at 97 1-8; July sold at 92 and closed with sellers at that, a decline of 3-4 cash wheat. There were small sales car lots of No. 2 soft at 96 1-4 to 96 1-4, closing at 96, a loss of 1-2. No trading in other grades.

Corn No. 3 at 40; No. 3 yellow at 40 1-2; No. 2 about 40 1-2. Oats No. 2 for May sold on the call at 32 1-4. Clover seed was more active and dearer. On the call March sold at $5 80. After the call February sold at $5 85 to $5 87 1-2; March at $5 82 1-2 to $5 85; No. 2 at $5 70. After change February sold at $5 90.

Governments steady; currency 6's 1 09 bid; 4's coupon, 1 16 bid; extended 2's registered, 1 00 bid.

The market was very dull this morning. Opening prices were generally slightly higher, but the strength soon disappeared and the market began to sag and the opening advance was soon lost. Toward 11 o'clock prices again rallied and at the end of the hour they were fractionally higher than yesterday. The announcement of a further engagement of $600,000 gold for shipment shortly after 11 o'clock caused some selling, but prices were steadily held and at noon were at about the same level as those current at 11 o'clock. At this writing the market is stagnant. Sales to noon 85,000 shares.

TOLEDO, OHIO, FEBRUARY 26, 1892.

The new party will make its first and last presidential nomination in Omaha July 4.

Pumping gas may be the proper thing to do, but the Toledo scheme is a job of somebody for a big commission. Watch it.

If Harrison had known that Blair was denied China to stay here and menace his renomination for the presidency, he would have pushed the issue with more vehemence.

Representative Johnson of Indiana said, in the house yesterday, that "he might, if he were so disposed, present the case of Mr. (Blocks-of-Five) Dudley in a very different light." Mr. Johnson is reminded that now is the time to do it, when the case of Judge Woods hangs in the balance and Harrison is selecting his aids.

The proposed change of this judicial district is solely in the interest of selfish politics. The Griffin stripe of partisans are willing to sacrifice the republicans of Erie, Huron, Ottawa and Sandusky for a couple of judgeships in Toledo. As the district now stands there are five judges three of whom are republicans. How the scheme will succeed will be seen later.

In the big race this year the close will be in this order:

Democrat.
Republican.
Prohibition.
Peoples.

The band wagon will be along with the head of the procession. You better be there or thereabouts. Get on the winning side.

The robber of the Rochester special gives the story of his procedure in detail, to a reporter, as if he thought he were contributing something valuable as well as entertaining to the literature of the country. By what process has it come to pass that no sooner is a deep-dyed criminal driven to cover than he at once begins to pose as a hero? Is it because he is sure of his audience?

The man who is the least disturbed by the present row in New York is Grover Cleveland. His fame as a statesman and his record as a democrat cannot be destroyed by a factional fight. It is fortunate that the New York democrats commenced their fighting early this year, as by June the other states will be thoroughly conversant with the situation and prepared to do in convention what will be the best for the whole country.

The dignified senate really indulged in a little tariff debate yesterday. Mr. Vest made his republican friends wince, by quoting their own words on tariff reform and giving some trade statistics. The little episode in the senate finance committee room when Mr. Blaine banged his silk tile into a ruinous heap, during his emphatic denunciations of the McKinley bill, was rehearsed to the evident relish of one side of the house and the discomfiture of the other.

Kaiser William, in his already famous speech delivered at Brandenburg, Wednesday, urged the malcontents of Germany to "shake the dust of Germany from their feet," meaning, probably, hie thee to the United States of America. Said he, "I am leading you to glorious days," and in less than twenty-four hours hot resolutions were passed against "the system of government that enables capital to crush workingmen beneath its iron heel." That the Kaiser's "lead to glorious days" is not along rose-bordered paths, is very evident.

A high protective tariff organ has a taking-on about women in Munchen, Germany, who (under the sweating system) receive only five cents a day for embroidery work. Sad enough to be sure, but within a few hours' railway ride of the Bee office are American women who make men's overalls for four cents a pair, living all winter in rooms without a spark of fire. And the eight, twelve or sixteen cents, more or less, they are able to earn will buy little more than the five cents of the German woman. Not very much difference between the protection for labor in despotic Germany and the free United States.

The plain Ella Haggin of yesterday is Countess Festictics de Golna to-day, and will change New York for Vienna as place of residence. The sad experiences of American women with foreign husbands seems to put no check upon the craze for titles. The "Daughters of the Revolution" are nowhere compared with the wives of Counts and Dukes.

Minister Reid got homesick, that was all. He is wanting to pitch into another presidential campaign. Perhaps he has heard a newspaper whisper that Harrison and Reid doesn't sound bad. At any rate, Whitelaw will leave the shadow of the Arc de Triomphe and soon disport himself again on his native heath.

That Coal Deal.

No matter what may be done or not done by the authorities of Pennsylvania and New Jersey, the people of New York are entitled to an official investigation of the coal conspiracy. We should not tamely submit to having an extra tax of two and a half millions of dollars a year levied on our firesides and on our industries for the benefit of foreign corporations and the enrichment of a few multi-millionaires of Wall street working in alliance with them. —New York World.

Ways of the Politicians.

There are several republican aspirants now before the people who seem to defy mathematical axioms and act upon the idea that the most crooked way is the shortest distance between two points—hope and realization. Mr. Cleveland's Ann Arbor speech upheld the straight line theory.—Detroit Free Press.

Germany's Social Question.

The socialistic question is becoming a troublesome one in Germany. William imagines he can't stamp it out, but his measures may result in giving it greater prominence. Governments do not always succeed in bridling men's opinions by forbidding them to express them.—San Francisco Chronicle.

Deserted Their Friends.

Rhode Island prohibitionists have refused to put a woman suffrage plank in their platform. If the women did not always carry a big prohibition plank in their hearts there would not be any prohibition party.—Chicago Times.

Quay's Machine.

It will be amusing to observe how Matt Quay will sit down on and suppress those loud talking kickers in the republican party in Pennsylvania. Quay's machine is the most perfect and powerful in the United States.—Denver News.

Don't Want the Canal.

The present congress will accomplish something if it does no more than protect us from the Nicaragua canal job.—Courier-Journal.

MENTIONED ON THE STREETS.

That when the Star course closes, the finances will be about even up.

That the building boom is commencing very well for 1892. May it continue.

That Mardi Gras excursions are occupying the attention of people of leisure.

That Toledo is gaining a reputation as a good point for the sale of musical instruments.

That Representative Griffin's name does not appear on the latest Big Four Foraker slate.

That the builders' exchange, under the guidance of President John Romeis, will be a good thing for all concerned.

That the spell of weather for the past ten days has rarely been equaled. It is hard to tell what is to come next.

That the Burn's Curling club can celebrate an anniversary with more genuine pleasure than any other club in the city.

That Mrs. Barnes, president of the Ys, will be warmly greeted at the reception Saturday afternoon at Trinity church parlors.

That Toledo's postoffice business shows up a big increase at every report. Larger headquarters are fast becoming a positive necessity.

That the K. P. building board masquerade party to-night will be a rare treat. The members have discovered some novel costumes.

That Fred Raitz is doing the republicans of the city for endorsements for the position now held by Charley Murphy in the labor bureau.

That the play being written for the Press club entertainment, entitled B'Gosh & Son, is nearly completed, and is a dandy in its way.

That the grip has made a heavy drain on the death and disability funds of the various benevolent societies, and double assessments are the rule just now.

That the rains of the few days have added largely to making walking over the crosswalks a dirty job. Street Commissioner Bower seems to care but little.

That several Toledo lawyers are developing as great lecturers, as for instance, Judge Doyle, L. K. Parks, Harry King, J. N. Huntsberger, F. B. Swayne and C. T. Lewis.

That the enthusiasm for the woman's club building, properly directed, will insure success. Such a structure is much needed in the city, and there need be no fear of failure.

That there is no end to the number of candidates who are willing to go as district delegates to the national conventions of the political parties, and many of them are first-class men.

That the latest scheme of the telephone companies is to connect the residences of members with the pulpit of their church, and, in the quietude of home, listen to the sermon of the preachers. Of course, there is nothing lazy about this, but this is a world of progressiveness.

LAY TO THE REFORMIST.

We want
Reform,
And want it bad—
That is,
We want
It good, my lad;
We do
Not know
Just what we'd like,
But want
Reform
The guns to spike,
Of those
Who laugh
And wink a wink
At what
We think
We think we think.
Some thirty different ways we have
Of bringing this reform about
But marry, sir, we can't
Reform
Each other,
There's the rub, no doubt.
Each one of us has his scheme planned
Of turning
Upside down this land;
He knows that his plan
Is the best, but strange, he can't
Reform
The rest.
We've cooks too many
For the broth.
Too bad,
'Twill spoil,
It makes us wroth
To think that we can no
Reform
Our brothers, when
We toot,
Our horn.
When mountains to Mohamet come,
When up the hills the streams will run,
When bullets small project the gun,
When puny planets swing the sun
When day is night
And night is morn
The world may listen and
Reform.

HARLOW IN TROUBLE.

A Lieutenant Charged With Sending Inflammatory Dispatches.

New York, Feb. 26.—A Valparaiso special to the Herald says an investigation is being made into the authorship of certain dispatches to a New York newspaper from this city.

It was found that the messages sent from here to New York were signed Reamer. This is declared to have been the assumed name of Lieut. Harlow, the world's fair commissioner in Chile.

Valparaiso papers yesterday published the facts in the case and said they could not understand why Lieut. Harlow, sent to Chile on a mission of peace, should spread such inflammatory news in the United States.

Public opinion is considerably excited against Lieut. Harlow and Consul McCreery.

A RICH HAUL BY IVES.

New York, Feb. 26.—Henry S. Ives, the "Napoleon of Finance," is reported to have made $300,000 by a deal which he is said to have recently put through in connection with the sale of stock of the Journeay & Burnham company, of Brooklyn, which was formed recently from the dry goods firm of Journeay & Burnham.

THE EIDER'S MAIL.

New York, Feb. 26.—The German postoffice department has made report under date of the 11th instant to the postoffice department at Washington that all but 15 bags of the 597 which were on board the steamship Eider, wrecked on January 5, have been recovered. The recovery of the missing bags is probable.

ABOUT PEOPLE.

Mrs. Richmond Ritchie is writing a biography of her father, William Makepeace Thackeray.

Mr. C. O'B. Cowardin, of the Richmond, Va., Dispatch, has been elected president of the Westmoreland club, of that city.

Mr. Joseph Francis, the founder of the United States life-saving service, is 90 years old, and is writing his autobiography.

Rev. William W. Page, chaplain of the New York Club of Confederate Veterans, is a Virginian, and was one of Gen. Lee's trusted scouts during the war.

Mrs. Paul H. Hayne, the widow of the southern poet, has just died in Augusta, Georgia. Mrs. Hayne was said to have been a constant aid and inspiration to her husband.

Dr. Caroline Bertellon has received the first appointment of the kind made in France in being given the position of visiting physician to the most important college for girls in Paris—the Lycee Racine.

Congressman John Sanford, of the Saratoga (N. Y.) district, and Miss Ethel Sanford, daughter of the late Gen. H. S. Sanford, were married on Wednesday at Sanford, Fla., by Bishop Whipple, of Minnesota.

Richard G. Moulton, of Cambridge University, England, has been secured by the new Chicago University as professor of English literature, and Dr. E. K. Robinson, formerly president of Brown, as professor in the department in philosophy.

Miss Mattie Mitchell, now the Duchesse de la Rochefoucauld, was overwhelmed with bridal gifts. Jewels, plate, curios, and rare bric-a-brac were among her presents, and the cards accompanying them were, many of them, those of titled and semi-royal personages. A grand dinner was given by the dowager duchess in honor of the signing of the contract of marriage.

Considerable annoyance is said to have been inflicted by the students of the University of Berlin upon Miss Gentry, the American girl who won the European scholarship of the Association of College Alumnae, and who has been allowed to listen to lectures on mathematics in the Berlin university.

BI-METALLIC MEETING.

Great Britain, Germany and France

Will Join with the United States

In Discussing the Question of Silver Money—The Announcement Will Soon be Made.

New York, Feb. 26.—The Herald this morning says information reached Wall street yesterday from Washington to the effect that Great Britain will postively join the United States, Germany and France in calling an international bi-metallic money conference on condition that the British representatives will not pledge their government in advance to abide by the decision of the conference.

The fact that England has expressed a willingness to join in a conference toward the recognition of silver money, even with a cautious condition coupled to it, was regarded in financial circles as of the greatest importance.

It is said that the conference will be announced soon after the arrival of Secretary Foster in London.

The official announcement of the conference will, it is expected, bring about a lively bull market for all silver scares will vanish until the conference finishes its work, and if silver is recognized capitalists will know what to depend upon.

It is stated that Secretary Foster when he arrives in London will call on Mr. Goschen, the chancellor of the exchequer, and will likely discuss the subject of the conference with his, but the interview will be entirely informal and incidental.

STILL WARRING.

New York, Feb. 26.—The British steamer Cycil, Capt. Oliphant, from the ports of Northern Brazil, brings news that great dissatisfaction prevails among the people at Manaos. On January 31, a boat crew from one of the Brazilian men-of-war went ashore and had a skirmish with the soldiers during which two sailors and one soldier were killed and several wounded.

HAS A SURPRISE IN STORE.

Cleveland to Teach Hill a Trick or Two.

He Will Oppose the May Convention and Let the Outside States Nominate Him.

New York, Feb. 26.—A special from Washington to the Mail and Express says: "It is hinted here, on the authority of western democrats, that Grover Cleveland has a surprise in store for the anti-Hill men, in New York.

"The visit of the ex-president to Michigan was full of conferences with leading democrats, and the general opinion of the men who talked to Cleveland was that he should refrain from appearing as a 'bolter.'

"Basing his action on this advice, it is now claimed that Cleveland will soon inform his late secretary of the treasury that he does not wish him to proceed with the May convention. He will tell him that he does not care to go to Chicago as a 'bolter' or 'kicker,' and precipitate a Cleveland-Hill fight at the beginning of the convention, and perhaps sustain defeat at the start.

"In place of such a performance he prefers to let the Hill convention stand, and let the other states send Cleveland delegates to Chicago.

"Mr. Cleveland has been advised that the effect of the solid Hill delegation from New York, such as already selected, will not hurt his cause before that convention half so much as a contest in which he appears as a bolter from the regular party.

"The convention will be thoroughly congnizant of the character of the Hill delegation and with an overwhelming number of delegates from other states he can win without New York..

"Therefore Cleveland will call off his May convention and go to work for delegates from other states, but at the same time to keep up the anti-Hill movement in New York to show that the opposition to the senator has not languished or died."

HENRY COUNTY NEWS.

Farmers Close an Interesting Meeting.

An Old Lady Sent to the Toledo Workhouse — Common Pleas Court.

Napoleon, Feb. 26.—(Special)—Mrs. January Reiterman was arrested yesterday and sent to the Toledo stoneyard for 20 days. She is about 50 years of age, and was arrested on a charge of inveigling 14-year old boys into her house on the south side for immoral purposes.

The Henry county farmers' second annual institute closed a successful two-days' session here last evening. Notwithstanding that the roads are in a very bad, almost impassable condition, the attendance was large and interest kept up to the highest notch.

Speakers Terry and McKelvey are two farmers' institute men of almost national importance, and their efforts here gave the greatest of satisfaction.

It is the intention of the farmers to hold local institutes in different parts of the county each quarter, while the grand annual will be held at Napoleon.

Common pleas court adjourned to-day until the May term, having disposed of the largest docket of civil cases that the county has had for years.

WILL AID THE FAIR.

Russia Will Transport the Exhibits of Her Subjects.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 26.—United States Minister Smith and Consul General Crawford have had an interview with the president of the Russian commission on the Chicago fair.

The president stated that Russia would transport the exhibits to Chicago and back free of cost to the exhibitors, the only expenses to the latter being for sending the articles to St. Petersburg. The Russian imperial porcelain factory is making special designs for the fair.

GIFT OF A MILLION.

Chicago, Feb. 26.—The University of Chicago had another gift of $1,000,000 added to its endowment yesterday. A letter was received by the trustees from John D. Rockefeller tendering that sum in 5 per cent. gold bonds, to be handed over to the trustees, with accrued interest, March 1. The giver reserves the right to designate the expenses to which the income shall be applied. The letter concludes as follows: "I make this gift as a special thanks offering to almighty God for returning health."

THE VILLARD SCHEME.

The Great Financier Will Not Father It.

St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 26.—Henry Villard, the financier, was in this city yesterday. After speaking of the advantages gained by recent changes in the Northern Pacific and Wisconsin Central he was asked, "What about the rumored consolidation between your lines and the Baltimore & Ohio, and how long will it be before the Northern Pacific will be running a transcontinental line from the Pacific coast to New York?"

"Well," replied he, "I am 57 years old and have seen many great changes in the development of this country. Perhaps if I live to be 100 the scheme of which you speak may be carried out, but there is certainly nothing at the present to indicate any consolidation between the companies you mention."

ALSACE-LORRAINE.

The Governor Talks to His People on the Passport Question.

Berlin, Feb. 26.—The governor of Alsace-Lorraine, in an address at a banquet in Stuttgart, said that the hope which he had expressed a year ago that the reichsland would soon be restored to a normal condition had been fulfilled.

Hereafter, thanks to the benevolent interest of the emperor in the province, its people would be able to secure and sanctify their homes and protect their frontiers without extraordinary passport restrictions.

The governor-general added that parliament would now proceed with its duties calmly and with good courage. The banquet was one given to members of the provincial parliament.

TOO MUCH OF A TASK.

Paris, Feb. 26.—It is now reported that M. Bourgeois, having been able to secure a following, will probably abandon the task of attempting to form a cabinet.

STATE BALL IN PARIS.

Five Thousand People Were Present.

The Dancing Just as Much Enjoyed as Though France Was Not in Political Trouble.

Paris, Feb. 26.—The first state ball of the season was given by the President and Mrs. Carnot last night. It is estimated that five thousand guests were present. The apartments of the Palace Elysee were superbly decorated.

No one would have supposed from the cheerful aspect of President Carnot and the appearance of the festivity and joy that a ministerial crisis still prevailed and that France was virtually without a government. The ball went on to the end without a hint of trouble.

But there was a great deal of quiet talk in the smoking rooms and corners of the palace over the political situation. The opinion prevailed that M. De Freycinet and M. Ribot would enter a cabinet committed to a readical program and that M. Bourgeois must fail in forming a cabinet, because he cannot agree to M. Ribot's foreign policy.

THE EXPORT OF GOLD

Discussed by the New York Bankers.

Financiers Claim it is a Good Thing and Give Their Reasons for so Thinking.

New York, Feb. 26.—The president of one of the largest national banks, speaking of the present export of gold, said that it was a very good thing—that it had stiffened the money market and made things steadier.

The rate for commercial bills was higher as a consequence, London had come along higher, and exchange was easier.

A member of a prominent foreign banking house spoke in a similar strain, and said that $20,000,000 or $30,000,000 in gold could be exported at this time without injury to the country's interests. "It is foolish," he said, "this excitement about the export of a little gold. People go abroad with letters of credit and drafts representing much more money, and there is no fuss made about it, and yet the effect is precisely the same."

A banker who was asked to-day to explain how it paid to export gold at this time said: "At this season of the year the first export of gold is usually made in adjusting the balance of trade with Europe, but, owing to our large shipments of grain occasioned by the shortage on the other side, it was thought that we should not be compelled to part with our gold at this time.

"It appears that $1,500,000 has already been taken upon legitimate transactions, but the rate of exchange has not yet reached a point where it can be exported at a profit.

"It would not be surprising at this time if more gold were shipped. Banks hold an excess of reserve to-day of $30,000, and they receive through the disbursements of the treasury department about $10,000,000 per month. The banks' could therefore lose as much at this time through gold exports as they did last year without impairing their reserve.

"One of the methods adopted by the gold manipulators to borrow money from the banks or trust companies upon various securities (under the present condition of affairs the banks are very glad to loan it at a low rate), and purchase foreign bills. The foreign broker has not a sufficient balance to his credit on the other side to meet his drafts, therefore he is obliged to request his bank here to ship the gold.

As the banks in this city do not carry in their vaults gold coin to any extent, they are compelled to have their gold certificates redeemed at the treasury for coin—twenty gold pieces are usually taken as the abrasion in shipping is less.

"At this period of the transaction the public is notified of the shipment, together with the further announcement that more will probably be engaged and the market immediately becomes weak and feverish and uneasiness prevails. The expense attending such transactions is comparatively small when compared with the benefits derived by being heavily short of the market."

THE MILLERS OF OHIO

Have Held an Important Meeting.

A Memorial to Congress Protesting Against the Gambling in Grain.

Mansfield, O., Feb. 26.—A special meeting of the Ohio Millers' association, held in this city, was attended by representatives of the various merchant mills in the state.

W. A. Barnett, of Springfield, O., is president, and M. H. Davis, of Shelby, O., is secretary and treasurer. Matters of vital interest to winter wheat millers were taken up and discussed at length, the principal subjects being: "Tariff Discriminations by Foreign Countries Against American Flour;" American Wheat Speculation;" and "Lake and Rail Freight Discrimination as Compared With All Rail Rates." By far the most important business transacted was the adoption of a memorial to be forwarded to the state department, at Washington, it being clear to the minds of all present that the government should take prompt and speedy measures under the reciprocity clause of the McKinley tariff bill, looking to the adjustment of foreign duties, so that the present outrageous discrimination against American flour should cease. The memorial is as follows:

The Ohio Millers' association, an organization composed of over one hundred merchant millers of Ohio, with capacity to daily manufacture over 25,000 barrels of flour, involving a capital to the amount of many millions, and whose annual output aggregates in value over $40,000,000, most earnestly urge attention to the following expression of sentiments, adopted at a special session of our association held in the city of Mansfield, O., February 23, 1892:

The milling industry of the United States is in a paralyzed condition and has been for the past twelve months. In casting about to ascertain the cause of this condition of things, some of our fraternity have thought they found it to be due to gambling in the raw material on our leading grain exchanges, and have, therefore, caused bills to be introduced into both houses of congress to suppress the evil. However much we may deprecate wheat gambling and desire its suppression, yet we do not look upon this evil as the primal cause of the present depression in the milling business. We attribute this depression to an enormous demand for the raw material, viz.: wheat from countries whose governments impose a much higher import duty on our flour than on the wheat their people buy in the United States. This demand has put a premium upon the raw material at our very mill floors, and the policy of the governments, whose people buy and import the wheat, is such as to bar us out of their markets for flour, thus working a double hindrance to the progress of our industry.

We believe that it is only necessary for us to call your attention to the disadvantages under which we labor in this respect.

You can appreciate the situation in which we are placed, without any argument on our part.

Nor do we believe it necessary for us to enlarge upon the remedy to be used in correcting this evil.

We shall be content simply to urge upon the state department the importance of effecting reciprocity treaties with such governments as France and Germany, whereby the import duty on American flour into those countries shall not exceed the import duty on American wheat.

We feel constrained to warn the state department that unless relief is speedily secured in this matter, the milling industry in America will soon lapse into decay.

In this connection we wish to express our gratification for and appreciation of what has already been done in our behalf in this direction, and yet we believe that material relief can only come by effecting reciprocity treaties with those countries who are at present the great buyers of raw material, and the density of whose population must of necessity force them to continue to be buyers, either of the raw material or manufactured product or both.

FRIENDS OF THE PUBLIC.

Men of Mark Who Gather News.

Some Personal Sketches and Incidents of Brain Workers in the Highest Walks of Life.

The reader of the morning paper who sits by his cosy fireside and is informed of what is transpiring in every quarter of the globe, seldom realizes the amount of actual labor necessary to ascertain, collect, write, transmit, and print this wonderful mass of news. And yet, aside from the special dispatches, it is largely centered in one office, located near the Telegraph building in New York, and presided over by a quiet gentleman in a most masterly manner.

Mr. William Henry Smith, manager of the Associated Press, is in the prime of life, and possesses a mind clear as to the requirements of the public. To properly and promptly handle the mass of matter that passes through his hands is an enormous undertaking, and one which may well test the capacity of any man. Mr. Smith has always been an arduous worker, and it is by no means surprising that his health should, in the past, have suffered more or less thereby. The mental strain necessary to the performance of his duties caused difficulties of digestion which are not easily overcome, and also a uremic colic, both painful and exhausting. All attempts to overcome these tendencies by force of will power failed, and he consulted eminent physicians, among them Dr. Barthol, of Philadelphia. In spite, however, of the care and skill of these practitioners, he grew worse constantly. The result can best be described in his own words. He said:

"My brother, C. W. Smith, manager of the Chesapeake & Ohio railroad, came to visit me, and, seeing my condition, took upon himself to conduct my case, and so secured a preparation which, I have since learned, he had used successfully himself and in his family. I began its use, and commenced improving at once. This improvement continued, until now I am well and wholly through the influence of Warner's Safe Cure. I have since then used the remedy with good results in my family, and keep it on hand constantly. I consider it a remarkable medicine."

Mr. George Alfred Townsend, the famous newspaper correspondent, whose letters, written over the nom de plume of "Gath," have attracted such wide attention, said to the writer: "While in England I had a pleasant visit with ex-Gov. S. B. Packard, our consul at Liverpool. We were remarking on the death of a number of distinguished Americans, when the governor said: 'Townsend, I can't see why so many of our public men are passing away, victims of one dread scourge. There is no need of their dying if they will consent to avail themselves of what has been provided for them, as I have.' Gov. Packard went on to describe his experience, and I found his symptoms corresponded almost exactly to my own. I soon afterward returned to America, began the same treatment, and when I had taken a number of bottles of Warner's Safe Cure—the remedy Gov. Packard used and commended to me so strongly—I, too, was rid of backache, bad fluids, tired feelings, nervous exhaustion, irregular appetite, 'thick head,' and to-day am as sound as a nut. It indicated my disorder and removed it entirely. I regard it as a godsend to this country, where Bright's disease and all other kidney disorders are so prevalent."

The above statements are not from obscure sources, but from gentlemen in the most exalted positions of trust and responsibility, and the affirmations they make are the results of actual observation. Does it not stand to reason, therefore, that the article of which they speak is a most valuable one, and such as may be used with great benefit by all who are suffering?

SIGNS OF SPRING.

Sound of gusty driving rain
 When we wake at midnight hour,
Ice-tipp'd branches on the pane
 Beating music to the show'r.

Crows that caw from steaming woods,
 Robins piping in the glades,
Buds that from their winter hoods
 Peep and blush like pretty maids.

Grateful odors of damp earth,
 Boist'rous glee of muddy rills,
Shouting, brawling, in their mirth,
 Down the bare flanks of the hills.

Here and there a crocus' head
 Thrusting up to dare the cold,
While its sisters, warm in bed,
 Stir their coverlids of mould.

Spring is coming; spring is near;
 She is whispered in the air.
Soon the blithe nymph will be here,
 Shaking blossoms from her hair.

Later on many peasants called upon the chief of the institution with petitions to take their children in. FRANCES WILLARD TALKS

On What Prohibitionists Propose to Do.

A Full Ticket to be Nominated in June.

Powderly Was the Friend of the Woman Suffrage Plank, but the Opposition Was Too Great.

Chicago, Feb. 26.—After the remarkable attempt to lasso the St. Louis cyclone convention of the farmers' alliance and people's party, Miss Frances Willard, president of the National Women's Christian Temperance union, had a very expressive look in her eyes when she arrived in Chicago.

"What will the prohibitionists do now?" she repeated when the query was put to her, adding quickly, but with marked deliberate emphasis and decision:

"You may put just this down as what I think they will do. On the 29th of June in the city of St. Louis will be held a national convention of the prohibition party, the delegates to which will be from every state and territory in the union, with a fair intersprinkling of women among the delegates, and that convention will hew out a platform, heart of oak in every plank, sound on economic principles, treating of government ownership of all highways and means of communication, also of monetary reform, ownership of land, prohibition and woman suffrage. The platform will mean what it says and say what it means. Candidates will be chosen for president and vice-president, and we will have the spectacle presented of two tickets in the field among the divided reform forces who seek the people's good."

"The prohibitionists," said Miss Willard earnestly, "would have been willing and glad to meet the people's party half way, and the method we had in view was this—first, that the St. Louis national industrial conference would put into its platform a woman suffrage plank and a plank for the suppression of the liquor traffic. We had good reason to expect this would be done, for at the Chicago conference were present Gen. Weaver, Ignatius Donnelly, A. J. Streetor and Gilbert Delamater, three of whom had been delegates of that element for the presidency and presumably knew the situation. We also knew that Col. Polk of the farmers' alliance and General Master Workman Powderly were thorough temperance men, and in conversation with the two latter I understood them to say they were willing to have those planks go in."

"Do I think Mr. Powderly acted in the convention in entire good faith? Indeed I do," said Miss Willard with warmth. "I have great admiration for Mr. Powderly, and so far from believing that he or the Knights of Labor in the convention acted in bad faith, I think they stood squarely up for the women till they saw it was going to put them greatly at odds, when they decided it wiser to vote for suffrage as a separate resolution."

"Mr. Powderly told me that he was not the author of the Colorado resolution, and that the use of his name in attempting its withdrawal was wholly unauthorized by him. I believe that with less gerrymandering in the convention, suffrage would have carried in the platform by a large majority.

"Had the leaders, too, in the convention been as favorable to the liquor suppression plank as they were at the Chicago conference, that too, would have been part of the platform. If these two planks had been put in in good faith, the next step would have been to have a joint meeting of the national committees of the two parties in which they would have mutually united upon the platform for the coming presidential campaign.

"The two conventions would soon have been held simultaneously in the same city, the one platform as indicated been adopted by each convention separately and then the two conventions would have immediately met together in one hall to give a name to the new party and select its presidential candidate."

"The attitude of the prohibitionists was dignified from first to last," maintained Miss Willard. "Such of the prohibition leaders as attended the Chicago and St. Louis conferences announced that they did so in a purely personal capacity.

"As to the St. Louis convention particularly, the presence of myself and others was in accordance with a custom of 10 years' standing, to have fraternal representatives of the prohibition party at all great national gatherings.

"The movement for a party union with the prohibitionists had its inception in a conversation I had with Gen. Weaver last fall. He believed such a union to be most desirable and also feasible. That such a union may not still take place in time for this campaign, I am not yet without hope.

"At present, however, it would seem unlikely that any conference committee looking to a union will be appointed at the St. Louis national prohibition convention."

COUNCIL COMMITTEES.

Lagrange Street Paving Bids All Rejected.

Changing the Fire Limits—Several Sewer Contracts Awarded—Other Business.

Short sessions of several council committees were held last evening, but only a small amount of business was transacted.

The street committee approved an ordinance to re-establish the grade of Beacon street and a resolution to grade and pave the street from Cherry to Union.

A communication was read from Mr. Paul Raymond requesting that obstructions at the corner of Thirteenth and Lucas streets be removed. This matter was referred to Mr. Morganthaler.

A ordinance was approved to turnpike Chase street from Galena to the alley southwest of New York avenue, as was also an ordinance to establish the grade of Second street.

The matter of paving Lagrange street from Champlain to Bancroft came up and the engineer presented an abstract of the bids for the improvement. The lowest price for fire brick was $10,335.55, and for cedar block, $7,598.20.

A majority of the property owners on the street petitioned for fire brick paving, but several members of the committee were of the opinion that the property would not stand the assessment for fire brick, and they opposed the improvement for the reason that the city would be obliged to pay for a large portion of it.

Mr. Hassenzahl, however, wanted the fire brick, and the discussion was very lively for a time, but finally all bids were rejected.

Now, if the people on that street want a pavement, the legislation must be commenced over again.

* * *

The fire committee again had the ordinance establishing new fire limits which had been referred back to them because of a protest from the East Side. Mr. Harvey Platt appeared before the committee and opposed any fire limits in the Sixth ward, and finally the East Side was left outside of the fire limits entirely.

The boundary was further contracted by running it along Ottawa street to Broadway, to Williams, to the creek, thus leaving out considerable property further south. The ordinance as amended was approved.

* * *

The committee on sewers approved a resolution for a new sewer in Walnut street from Champlain to Michigan street and awarded a number of contracts as follows: Sewer No. 410, in Monroe street, Detroit avenue to Bancroft street, Thomas Kelley, $884.90; No. 390, in Michigan street, Oak street to Stickney avenue, James H. Kelley $1,651.75; No. 411, in alley between Knower and South street, William McMahon, $785.59, No. 413, in Sixth street, Nevada street to Starr avenue, William McMahon, $2,100.71; No. 412, Harrison street, Mill alley and North Railroad avenue, F. E. Cole, $2,954 10.

ENTERTAINMENTS.

An Amateur Performance of School To-Night.

Mr. and Mrs. Kendal in the Ironmaster To-Morrow—Held by the Enemy.

There has been a large sale of tickets for the entertainment to be given this evening at Wheeler's for the benefit of the Day Nursery. Robertson's bright comedy, School, will be presented by a large company of amateurs who have been rehearsing for some time past, and the performance promises to be a brilliant one.

The cast is taken by a number of Toledo's young society people, and there is much talent among them.

Mr. and Mrs. Kendal.

Many are aware that the Kendals who come to this city to-morrow have received more critical commendations in English speaking countries than any players on the stage. Next Saturday evening, at Wheeler opera house, Mr. and Mrs. Kendal will make their first and only appearance in this city in The Ironmaster.

This drama is an English version by A. W. Pinero of George Ohnet's well-known Le Maitre de Forges, to which the adaptation adheres very closely. When M. Ohnet made his glorification of bourgeoisie, he presented in Claire de Beaupre and Phillippe Derblay two characters well fitted to Mrs. Kendal and her husband as actors. Of these merits, the one predominant is that they illustrate art without affectation. Their art—especially Mrs. Kendal's—is thorough, exhaustive; aims to do all that should be done and to leave all else undone. Yet it is not tedious. It is rather the more fascinating.

The careful deliberateness of Mr. and Mrs. Kendal's work is noticeable in all their plays. They let no sentiment or emotion go unexpressed that they think ought to belong to their part, and express them all in such a way that the simplest mind cannot mistake their meaning. They linger long over each situation carefully, elaborating each element that goes to make the general effect. The thoroughness of their work is one of its most commendable qualities.

Held by the Enemy.

Those play patrons who have for so long a time been regretting that America has too few works of a distinctively native character, will find an opportunity to welcome one of the worthiest of our dramas next week, when Wm. Gillette's celebrated war play, Held by the Enemy, will be presented at the People's theater.

The author has not only provided a strong drama in Held by the Enemy, but he is said to feel some pardonable pride in making a military play that is consistent with all the technical tactics employed by his soldier actors. The war department is said to have furnished him with authority for all the military matters he has employed, and before it was first presented to the public, was subjected to a very careful revision by the late Gen. Sherman and other officers of experience. It will be given here with all the necessary scenery and by a company of admirable artists.

Lima, O., Feb. 26.—Mrs. Thomas Clemenger was very seriously burned by a natural gas explosion. She was assisting a number of ladies in preparing supper at the Presbyterian church. A piece of paper was placed in the stove and lighted before the gas was turned on, but the paper did not light the gas, which filled the stove. A lighted match was thrown in and a fearful explosion followed. Mrs. Clemenger was terribly burned about the face and hands and suffers much pain from burns, but will recover.

AT PRINCETON COLLEGE.

The Greek Letter Fraternities Do Not Dominate.

The Records of Club Life at Princeton Antedate the Revolution—Some Admirable Features.

An eastern journal says: College life at Princeton is unique in one respect—it is not dominated by fraternities. Instead of a number of smaller organizations, there are two historic halls which have survived from the pre-revolutionary period. Their records go back to more than a decade before the Declaration of Independence; among their charter members they can point to such names as James Madison, William Patterson and Philip Freneau, "the poet of the Revolution," and the constitution of one of them was written by the same hand which drafted the Constitution of the United States. All American colleges at that early date had halls of a similar nature, but they have gradually disappeared before the rising tide of Greek Letter Fraternities. The American Whig and Cliosophic Societies have had many applications for charters from other colleges, but they have steadily refused to join the fraternity movement.

Nearly every undergraduate is a member of one of them, and in each there is a select body of men who have come to Princeton largely on account of the opportunities which these halls offer, and who are training in parliamentary practice and public speaking under the influence of the venerable traditions of their chosen society. Their assembly rooms have seats for about five hundred men.

But even in Princeton everybody is not an orator, and many a man, who does not care to have the floor, knows the massive doors behind the stately marble columns, and admits him to library, reading table and suits of club apartments.

The closer circles of friendship find their homes in the clubs. First of all, is "The Ivy," or "the club," as its members fondly call it. For some years it was the only social club in Princeton, and election to its membership was the coveted goal of many man's ambition. The requisites were two. First, the candidate must be a "good fellow," and second, he must be one who has "done something." Fifteen seniors and fifteen juniors comprise the membership, and among them are generally found names which are associated with the literary and athletic honors of the university. When a fellow is an exceptionably "good fellow," the second qualification is often overlooked.

The rapid growth of the college soon made it impossible for Ivy to take in all the eligible men, and "The Cottage" was organized some years ago to meet the need. In its organization and membership it is a second Ivy.

The movement once started, the multiplication of clubs has been rapid. Old alumni looking over the bric-a-brac, come upon some new names as "The Inn," "Cap and Gown," "Colonial," "Tiger Inn," "North Side," and some others, each one of which stands for a group of men who rejoice in a club house devoted to the pleasures and graces of social life.

Just now a building fever seems to have taken possession of these organizations. In 1889, Whig and Clio began to tear down their old structures, and the following commencement will witness the dedication of two splendid marble buildings which would have done honor to the Acropolis in the days of Pericles. They are exactly alike outside, and are in the Ionic style. The columns of the hexastyle porticos are copied from those of a temple in the Ilissus, near the fountain of Callirhoe, in Athens. The shafts are single blocks of marble, and are the largest monolithic columns in the country. These magnificent halls are being erected at a total cost of over $60,000 each, and their interior designs provide for all the equipments of a modern club.

The Ivy club has recently made an extensive addition to their charming home on Prospect avenue. The Cottage club has decided to leave their present house on University Place, and already the foundations are in for a building on Prospect avenue, opposite Ivy, which promises to be the handsomest structure of the kind in Princeton. A few steps below, the new home of the "Camp and Gown" is receiving its finishing touches, while near by stands the Varsity club house just completed, at a cost of about $20,000, the gift of Prof. Henry F. Osburn for the accommodation of the university athletic teams when in training. The "Colonial" have just refitted and occupied a roomy old colonial mansion on Nassau street, near Evelyn college, and others are talking about building next year.

These larger organizations are the clubs par excellence, but for the considerable number of men who cannot afford the expense of "house bills," there are the not less agreeable circles of the eating clubs. These are generally made up of a dozen or more congenial fellows who make arrangements with the powers of the kitchen through an agent or "club runner."

Men from colleges where undergraduate life is largely centered in fraternities, often wonders how Princeton gets along without them, but in Princeton itself undergraduate sentiment is overwhelmingly against their introduction. There may be some satisfaction in meeting a fellow at the seashore or in the mountains who wears the same mystic letters, especially when you can be proud of him, but apart from that it is hard to see any special advantage in intercollegiate organizations, and Princeton men find that an orange and black button is as good an introduction to college circles as the pearls and rubies of a glittering "frat pin." They prize their broad, unconventional camaraderie, their freedom from cliques and factions, and the unity of their college spirit too highly to run any risks where nothing substantial is to be gained.

Richard Hetherington, of Grand Rapids, started home drunk and his mangled remains were found along the railroad track.

Mrs. Bowers has had quite an experience with her children, which experience we give in her own words, as follows:

I have used, as occasion required, the entire line, and have had very marked results from the Colic Cure, Cough and Croup Medicine, and the Pleasant Physic. I have never had any but good result from the use of any of them."

GRANDMA.

When grandma puts her glasses on,
  And looks at me—just so—
If I have done a naughty thing,
  She's sure to somehow know.
How is it she can always tell,
So very, very, very well?

She says to me: "Yes, little one,
  'Tis written in your eye!"
And if I look the other way,
  And turn, and seem to try
To hunt for something on the floor,
She's sure to know it all the more.

If I should put the glasses on,
  And look in grandma's eyes,
Do you suppose that I would be
  So very, very wise?
Now what if I should find it true
That grandma had been naughty, too?

But ah! what am I thinking of?—
  To dream that grandma could
Be anything in all her life
  But sweet and kind and good!
I'd better try myself to be
So good that when she looks at me
With eyes so loving all the day,
I'll never want to turn away.
—Our Little Ones.

HOW GRANDPA PROPOSED.

"Tell you how grandpa proposed? Dear me!"
  And grandma nodded her silvery head.
(Her hair was like gold, in the days that were old,
  But the years had brought silver instead.)
"How your grandpa proposed! Dear me!
  Well, it happened the eve before Christmas, you see."
(How grandma's dark eyes shone!)
  "And this tiny gold heart, and this tiny gold key,
Your grandpa brought them and gave them to me."
  "I have brought you my heart. Will you keep it?" said he.
  "It will open to you, dear, alone;"
  And when in the heart I had fitted the key,
(What a flush on the dear old face!)
  I found that the space—just a large enough place—
  Held the tiniest picture of me!
"Will you live in my heart, forever?" said he,
  And that's how your grandpa proposed, dear, to me;
And you think it 'as sweet as it ever could be?'
  Well—I thought so myself"—said she.

BOYS' LEAGUE.

Boys, do you belong to any society? If you don't you are missing a good thing, providing, of course, that the society is of the right kind.

The boys of the First Presbyterian Sunday school of this city have a good society that is worth knowing about. It is called a "Boys' League," and has about 25 members, all boys from 8 to 14 years of age. This society was formed about two years ago by the Misses Florence Fiske and Lou Kitchen, who have since superintended the work.

These boys are banded together for missionary work, and by their contributions they are supporting and educating another little boy at Asheville, North Carolina.

The league meets in the parlors of the church every second Tuesday afternoon, and after holding devotional exercises, they spend a very interesting half hour in studying and talking about missionary work, both home and foreign. Then at some of the meetings they spend an hour in having a good time, and anyone who don't believe that they enjoy themselves should look in on one of these meetings.

This league has a regular constitution just like big societies and they conduct business in a regular way. Every member of the league is a member of the Sunday school, and by their work they have been a great help to the school.

The officers of the league are, president, Charlie Collins; secretary, Clarence Wehrle; treasurer, Norman Dawson.

The next meeting of this league will be held on Tuesday afternoon, March 1. Some day you will hear more of this society.

Another Boys' league of a similar character is composed of boys of the Ashland Avenue Baptist Sunday school. It is not a missionary league and its workings are different from those of the Presbyterian, but it is a good society, and it would be a fine thing if Leagues of this kind could be formed in every Sunday school in the land.

ICE-BOUND IN THE ARCTIC SEAS.

"We are in for it, Mr. Pulley," the captain of the Dolphin said to his mate, as the two stood together on the deck.

"I'm afraid we are, sir; those gales have driven us a good many miles out of our course, and no mistake!" the mate answered him.

As far as the eye could see, the vessel was surrounded by huge masses of ice, tumbled or tossed about, or piled up in beautiful pinnacles, glistening like crystals.

The unfortunate Dolphin was ice-bound, and very strangely desolate she appeared as she lay there, her rigging and spars coated with snow, and the great white "field" stretching out on all sides.

The captain walked the frosty deck with an unusually anxious expression, as he had his wife, his son Rob, and little daughter Hetty aboard, and the lookout for them was not pleasant.

A series of terrible gales had for several days driven the ship helplessly before them, then had followed thick, foggy weather, and when that lifted Capt. Bluff found himself surrounded by ice-floes, which gathered more rapidly as the days advanced, though he knew the wind must blow from a different quarter soon and disperse them. Still, in the mean time he had nothing to do but wait, and endure the discomfort as best he might.

"I say, dad," a gleeful voice exclaimed at his elbow, "is it true what the men say, that we shall perhaps be fast here for several days."

"Is it quite true, daddy?" another voice exclaimed. The skipper's face brightened as he turned towards the last speaker, a little blue-eyed girl, and lifted her up in his strong arms.

"Yes, Rob," he replied to the sturdy, rosy-checked boy in front of him, "it's quite true. So you must look after my little mermaid here, and try to keep out of mischief, and take care of her at the same time."

"Oh, I'll do that, father! Eskimo Jack says he will teach me how to drive his team of dogs in the sledge upon the ice; and I'll take Sis with me," Rob said excitedly. "Come on, Hetty."

"No, no, Rob," Capt. Bluff answered; you must not take her with you yet, till I see you can manage the sledge properly; and mind you do not go far from the ship's side, either."

"All right, father, Come along, Sis, and see me start off with Jack;" and away scampered the head-strong youth, with the flaxen-haired sister at his heels, happy because it was Rob she followed, for, after her father, Hetty thought Rob the greatest hero that ever lived.

Apart from his willfulness, Rob certainly was a nice boy, and a general favorite with all—from the mate, who had taught him how to handle a gun, down to Eskimo Jack the Greenlander, who, in broken English, had promised to show him the way to drive a team of dogs over the snow in first-rate style.

Day after day passed, and Dolphin still lay helpless, the crew kept busy in clearing the snow from her decks, for it fell in heavy showers at times. The cold, too, was intense, for the sun's light had little power, though it rose each day looking like a great ball of fire in the sky, and surrounded by a brilliant halo, that at once set the children questioning.

"Is it the same sun we have at home, daddy?" Hetty asked; "that has no ring round it."

And when her father tried to explain how it was the cold made the sun look as if it had a halo, Hetty would open her blue eyes and wonder more than ever.

Rob seemed bent on getting plenty of enjoyment out of his short taste of Arctic life.

Sometimes he would accompany the crew, headed by the captain or Mr. Pulley, when they went out with guns to shoot wild birds to supply the table on board the Dolphin, and in a very short time besides, under the Greenlander's guidance, he learned to manage the dog team in a very creditable manner, so that he and Hetty had fine fun together, being careful not to go far from the ship, as it was feared a stray wolf might wander into the neighborhood.

Rob, in spite of his headstrong willfullness, was very tender and careful with Hetty, whom he loved with all his boyish heart.

"Ay, but they make a bonnie pair!" the sailors would say as they paused in their work to watch the children.

You would easily understand, then, the consternation there was throughout the ship when, during the afternoon of the eighth day of the Dolphin's arrival, it was discovered that Rob and Hetty were nowhere to be found, having started out together in the sledge, and after an absence of nearly two hours had not returned.

Poor Mrs. Bluff was half-distracted with fear, but the captain, just then returning from a shooting expedition, decided that every one who could be spared from the Dolphin should go in search of them; and telling his wife not to be alarmed, for they could have come to no harm, he shouldered his gun and started off to lead the party, feeling angry with Rob, whose thoughtlessness so often caused trouble to others.

Now, the fact was, Rob had persuaded Hetty to go with him in the sledge to see some wonderful ice-caves he had discovered in one of his rambles.

"Are they far Rob, dear?" she asked timidly.

"No, Sis. I can soon take you there with the dogs, and they are so beautiful, like the fairy palaces you read about. And there are lots of wild birds flying about, so you shall see me shoot one if you like," added Rob persuasively.

"Let's wait and go with father," Hetty suggested, rather alarmed at the startling program.

But Rob said "No." He wanted her to go at once, and in his usual headstrong fashion carred the day. Hetty crept under the warm rug beside him, and with "La, la, there! whoo! whoop!" and a crack of the whip, the dogs were off, bounding away, with the light sledge skimming merrily over the hard ice behind them.

It seemed a long way to Hetty, much farther from the ship than she had ever been before. Indeed, the Dolphin was lost to view when she turned to look, though her brother assured her it was only the lumps of ice that hid it from sight. Besides, here were the caves.

"Come and see how beautifully they glisten," he said, as he scrambled out, and led her beneath a low archway in the side of a great cliff of ice.

It really was just as Rob had described it—like a fairy palace. The ice hung down in great thick columns, and the light of a day shining dimly through made everything look a most beautiful blue in color. They wandered about admiring the cave till Rob's appetite warned him it was time to think of getting back.

So they returned to the sledge and made ready to drive away. Just as the boy was about to take his place beside his sister, the dogs began barking and whining in a strange manner, and turning himself about to see what caused them to behave so, Rob's eye caught a glimpse of the shaggy form of a gigantic bear standing watching the party intently.

In an instant the lad took in the danger of the position, and fearing lest Hetty might also catch sight of the monster, he turned the dogs swiftly round, and, stepping in, seized the whip and urged them forward. As he did so, Bruin, with a low growl, gave a clumsy bound, and at a smart trot set off following.

"What is that funny, shuffling sound behind us, Rob?" Hetty asked—a question her brother pretended not to hear, though he had his hand on the gun by his side.

Another moment, and the bear was along-side, and the dogs, by instinct, feeling their danger, came suddenly to a stand-still, and faced about to meet their enemy and fight for dear life. Then it was that poor Hetty realized their danger, as with wild barks the dogs flew upon the great beast, who lifted the leader of the team in his shaggy white paws and hugged the life out of it as easily as if it had been a rabbit.

"Oh, save poor Disko!" cried Hetty.

Rob knew their own lives were at stake besides, and though his heart beat wildly, his hand was steady, as he raised his gun, took aim and fired.

It was a fortunate shot; the bullet entered the bear just below the ear, and when the smoke lifted there lay Bruin upon the ice, with the dead Disko still clutched tightly to his shaggy breast.

Just then a shout was heard, and hurrying towards the children came Captain Bluff and his crew. They had heard the report of Bob's gun, it had guided them to the spot, where they arrived just in time to witness the white bear's last struggles as he lay dying.

The joy with which the children were welcomed back to the ship may be imagined better than described, and though his father lectured Rob severely for so thoughtlessly running himself and Hetty into so terrible a danger, he added that he was proud to see the way he had behaved in such trying circumstances.

The Dolphin floated safely out of the ice pack a few days later, the bear's skin being carried away in her as a trophy. Rob never looked at it afterwards without remembering how his recklessness had nearly cost his own life and that of the dearest little sister in the world.—Sunshine.

BEE HIVE.

Greeting.

Dear Boys and Girls—We have several good letters from the young people this week, and I am very glad to hear from you.

The letters are very interesting and will be read with pleasure. Just see what a worker Charley Marsh is. I should like to hear from other boys who do as well.

In the column above is an account of a Boys' League that shows what boys can do. I wish some of the Bee's boys would organize leagues and tell us about them. Ever your friend,

PETER BUZZER.

A Mission Girl.

Dear Mr. Buzzer—I am very glad to see you in the Bee again, and I am going to write to you. I am 12 years old, but I never wrote a letter for a newspaper before. I go to school and to Sunday school. In our Sunday school we have a Girls' Mission Band, and meet every other Saturday.

Now Good Bye.

A Worker.

Dear Mr. Buzzer—As I see letters printed in the Bee I will try and write one. If I see it printed I will write again. I go to Sunday school, and we have a nice school. I have a little sister four years old. I cultivated fourteen acres of corn last summer. We have lived on this place two years, and I like it because there are lots of hickory nuts and walnuts. We are very much pleased with the Bee, and many of our friends take it.

I remain yours truly,

An Eastern Girl.

Dear Buzzer—I am a little girl 11 years old, and have just begun taking the Bee this year, and like it very much. Burlington is an exceedingly pretty place. The other day we had a very beautiful sunset, a great many people say the most beautiful they have seen. In the first place we had a great deal of snow, then rain came and made icicles on the trees, and the sun made them look like drops of gold and silver on the trees. Our house stands on the top of the hill, and when we look toward the west, we see Lake Champlain, and on the east the Green Mountains.

Story of the Trip of the Steamship Advance.

Eighteen Cases Discovered on Board—Four Deaths Occurred at Sea—The Ship in Quarantine.

New York, Feb. 26.—The New York Brazilian mail steamship Advance arrived at quarantine late last night from Santos and Brazilian ports.

When boarded by the health officer this morning it was learned that while lying at the various ports at Brazil and while on the voyage here, 18 cases of yellow fever were discovered on board.

Four deaths were recorded, three of these being directly caused by the disease and the fourth resulted indirectly from it. This latter victim was James Hann, an oiler, who was injured while at work in the engine room and died February 14.

It is supposed that the plague was brought aboard the Advance by some of her crew who went ashore, or by the laborers who assisted in loading and unloading the ship.

The first case on board was discovered on January 19, when Julius Mattyellh, a messman, was sent ashore to the hospital without delay, and prompt treatment saved his life.

On January 20 Peter Gerado, a fireman, was also taken sick and treated similarly. On January 22 Charles Brophy, the ship's cook, was taken sick and was at once isolated. Everything was done to prevent the spread of the disease on board, but on the following day Arthur Willis, the second steward, became ill and was also isolated.

On the following day two new cases were discovered, the victims being Emil Kussman, a coal-passer, and Emil Schoene, a sailor.

All four men were placed in the ship's hospital and were all sent ashore at Rio de Janeiro. The three additional cases were developed at Rio de Janeiro. Emil Saletta, a coal-passer, Chas. Gasselaus, an under steward, and Ernst Long, a coal-passer, were also sent to the hospital.

Before the steamer left Rio the chief officer, R. T. Baker, was taken sick and lingered about 24 hours, dying the second day after leaving port. Gerhard Jordan, a coal passer, fell ill next, and two days later Peter Olsen, the quartermaster, also fell ill, and on January 21 Joseph Oswald, the second cook, was taken down with the plague. Jordan and Olsen were sent to the hospital on the steamer's arrival at Bahia, but Oswald was kept on board. February 3 Wm. Alverson, the second engineer, developed the fever, but he recovered and was not removed from the ship. February 2 Antonio Rubis, a fireman, was also sent to the ship's hospital, but he was pronounced out of danger on the 5th.

February 4 Oswald died and was buried at sea the same day. At about the same time Joseph Brannigan, a steward, was taken sick and died on February 7. On February 5 Annie Toussey, the ship's stewardess, was ordered to the hospital. Her attack was light, and she recovered.

All the traces of the fever plague had disappeared when the Advance reached here last night, and her detention by the health authorities is a precaution. The ship and the passengers' baggage will be thoroughly fumigated and disinfected before she will be allowed to proceed to her pier in Brooklyn.

WILL MEET IN OMAHA.

Third Party Convention Has Been Called

To Meet on the Glorious Fourth of July.

Call Issued by the Joint Committee of the Industrial Conference—How Delegates Will be Elected.

St. Louis, Mo., Feb. 26.—The joint committee in whose charge the matter was placed by the industrial conference just ended here, selected Omaha, Neb., as the place of holding the nominating convention of the newly-born third party. July 4 was selected as the date. A formal call was issued in the following terms:

"To the People of the United States:

"The national committee of the people's party of the United States, acting in conjunction with the following: C. H. Van Wyck, of Nebraska; C. W. Macune, of Texas; M. J. Branch, of Georgia; J. H. Powers, of Nebraska; R. M. Humphrey, of Texas; L. D. Laurent, of Louisiana; Marion Cannon, of California; T. H. Maguire, of New York; J. H. Williams, of Kansas; L. L. Polk, of New York; Pierce Hackett, of Missouri; M. M. Garrett, of Illinois; John Seitz, of Ohio; Mary E. Lease, of Kansas; Anna L. Diggs, District of Columbia; Anna Debbs, of Texas; A. P. Parksen, of Florida, and Ben Terrill, of Texas, representatives of a certain meeting of members of the various organizations of this country, held in the city of St. Louis, Mo., on the 24th day of February, 1892, respectfully submit to the people of the United States the following preamble and platform of the conference of said labor organizations of our nation, held on the 22d, 23d and 24th days of February, 1892, in the city of St. Louis.

"We urge that all citizens who support these demands shall meet on the last Saturday in March next, in their respective towns and villages and hold public meetings and ratify these demands, and take steps to organize, preparatory to electing delegates to a national convention, and we call upon all duly qualified voters of the United States who are in favor of these principles and of nominating candidates for president and vice president on the above platform to send delegates to the convention to be held in Omaha, Neb., July 4, 1892, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon.

"The executive committee of the people's party in each state is charged with the duty of promulgating this call and of fixing the time, place and method by which the said delegates shall be chosen.

"The basis of representation shall be four delegates from each congressional district and eight delegates from each state at large, making the total number 1,776.

"We call upon all citizens of the United States to help us make our principles triumphant. We believe that if the voters neglect their duty this year it may be impossible in any future canvass to protect the rights of the people and to save the free institutions of our country. The voters must protect themselves; they can expect no one else to defend them. In the name of the rights of the people, the homes of the land, and the welfare of all future generations, we call upon all honest men to come to our support in this great contest."

H. E. TAUBENECK, Chairman.
ROBERT SCHILLING, Secretary.

THE WORK HAS COMMENCED

The Raum Investigators Are at Work.

They Propose to Show to the Country Just How the Pension Office Has Been Run.

Washington, Feb. 26.—The special committee appointed to investigate the management of the pension office under Raum began its task yesterday. It was decided to hold sessions on Monday and Thursday of each week, beginning at 10 o'clock a. m.

Representative Enloe, of Tennessee, who, with Representative Cooper, of Indiana, is conducting the prosecution, offered in evidence certain parts of the record in the investigation of last congress relating to appointments and promotions in the pension office.

No objection was offered by Mr. Payson, counsel for the commissioner, but when Mr. Enloe proposed to offer the testimony of Green B. Raum, jr., in the last congress, Mr. Payson said that he did not wish to say that there was anything there to which he would object, but that he wished to suggest the propriety of limiting to some extent the admission of testimony which would go in the record.

For instance, he noticed in the matter offered certain statements purporting to give at the fourth remove from the original source, evidence relating to Commissioner Raum's connection with a refrigerating company. He did not know that the committee would go into this matter, and certainly hearsay evidence in the fourth degree would not be admissable.

Mr. Enloe thought the clause of the investigating resolution relative to improper influence in appointments and promotions in the pension office covered an inquiry with reference to the refrigerating company, and he offered this testimony to furnish a basis for examination of other persons.

After some general discussion Mr. Payson and Mr. Enloe agreed upon certain parts of the record to be put in evidence, other parts being left for future disposition.

The committee had summoned Secretary Noble, but as the secretary could not today get in order certain papers he desired to have with him the committee adjourned until to-morrow.

DROWNED IN LAKE MERCER.

Celina, O., Feb. 26.—Jacob Heitman, a farmer, living near Montezuma, this county, was attending a public sale near New Bremen, Tuesday, and after the sale, it being late, told a friend of his that he guessed as Lake Mercer was frozen over that he would go that way home, as it was nearer. The next morning a hat was seen floating on the water in a fish hole. A search was made, and it was discovered that a body was there. A young man by the name of Heitman volunteered to dive after the body, and he did so, bringing to the surface his own father. He had fallen through a hole in the ice where a fish net had been removed. He was a well-to-do farmer and sixty-eight years old.

CATARRH AS A CAUSE

Of Nervous Debility—An American Malady.

Debility of the nervous system from intemperate habits of any kind, or exposure to cold, are quite likely to cause a condition of the mucous membranes of the nose and throat so nearly resembling catarrh that they are practically identical. Also chronic diseases which depress the nervous system will produce the same result, notably female weakness. They cause a flabby, pale condition of the mucous surfaces, with a sticky, stringy mucous secretion, which produces much hawking or coughing, generally called catarrh, but the whole trouble is caused by nervous depression, pure and simple. Beside the usual symptoms of catarrh, the patient has brown specks before his eyes, slight dizziness, roaring in the ears, attacks of nervous headache, palpitation of the heart, flashes of heat, followed by slight, chilly sensations, faintness, depression, despondency, foolish fears, and many other similar ones. In such cases local treatment can do nothing but harm, the only hope of cure being the internal use of Pe-ru-na, according to the directions on the bottle.

Every one beginning treatment for catarrh in any of its many phases or complications should send for a free copy of The Family Physician No. 2. Address The Pe-ru-na Drug Manufacturing Co., Columbus, O.

GUILTY OF MURDER.

Waitman Thompson Convicted at Smithfield.

Circumstantial Evidence Pointed to Him as the Slayer of the Pearsall Family.

Smithfield, N. C., Feb. 26.—Waitman Thompson was yesterday found guilty of the murder of Wm. Pearsall and his wife and two children. An appeal will be taken to the supreme court.

The charred bodies of the Pearsall family were found in the ruins of their home on February 24, 1891. Thompson was known to have been a visitor to the house and he was arrested on suspicion.

Valuables belonging to the Pearsalls were found on his person and he was finally indicted for the murder. His trial and conviction followed. Most of the evidence against Thompson was circumstantial.

ANOTHER GRAIN BLOCKADE.

Corn Cars in a Jam in the West.

Freight Coming in Faster Than It Can be Handled by the Burlington.

Kansas City, Mo., Feb. 26.—Another grain blockade is on in Kansas City. The Burlington has given notice that it cannot receive any more grain. Orders were issued Wednesday to stop shipping to or via Kansas City on account of the blockade.

The grain, principally corn, has been coming into Kansas City at the rate of fifty or sixty cars a day and the road has been able to get rid of only about 25 cars.

There were 130 cars in the yard yesterday, and as the working capacity is only 100 cars, and as the cars were still coming, it resulted in a blockade.

The cars are being sidetracked west of here and a large number are being held between this city and St. Joseph.

It is impossible to tell how long the blockade will last but the Burlington people do not expect to get clear for a week at least. So far as known yesterday the other roads are not in any danger of being blockaded and they claim they will be able to keep open.

AFTER THE GRIPPE.

The Grippe Responsible for More Deaths after Recovery than During Its Course—How to Avoid the Danger.

Grippe, in itself, is bad enough, debilitating enough, but it is the after effects, the slowness of recovery that give it its great danger. In most cases, the person did not have sufficient vitality to rally after the disease itself had passed. The forces of nature were too weak to contend with the debility which the Grippe had left.

It is sad to think how many people have died who might have been saved if nature had been properly assisted and fortified after the Grippe had been driven from the system. Many physicians realized this fact and assisted their patients over the dangerous after effects by bracing up and stimulating their systems. This was, and can be done in but one way, and that is by the steady and moderate use of some pure yet powerful stimulant. There is but one absolutely pure and medicinal stimulant known to the profession and to the public, and that is Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey. The most prominent scientists and physicians of the land endorse its purity and value. It is not a new whiskey, it has been before the public for years. It is not a cheap decoction, but a pure distillation. It imparts a tone to the system possible in no other manner and sends the blood coursing through the veins with renewed vigor. It is superior in every respect and however much any unscrupulous druggist or grocer may seek to lead you to believe to the contrary do not be deceived.

DR. OTTMAN, the Celebrated Examining Surgeon of the

FRANCE MEDICAL AND SURGICAL INSTITUTE,

38 & 40 W. Gay St., one block N. of State House, Columbus, O. Incorporated, 1886. Capital, $300,000.

DRS. FRANCE AND OTTMAN, of New York, the well known and successful Specialists in Chronic Diseases and Diseases of the Eye and Ear, on account of their large practice in Ohio, have established the FRANCE MEDICAL INSTITUTE, where all forms of Chronic, Nervous and Private Diseases will be successfully treated on the most Scientific principles. They are ably assisted by a full corps of eminent Physicians and Surgeons, each one being a well known specialist in his profession.

CANCER positively cured without pain or use of the knife, by a new method.

IMPORTANT TO LADIES.—DR. FRANCE, after years of experience, has discovered the greatest cure known for all diseases peculiar to the sex. Female diseases positively cured by the new remedy, OLIVE BLOSSOM. The cure is effected by home treatment. Entirely harmless and easily applied. Consultation Free and Strictly Confidential. Correspondence promptly answered.

YOUNG MEN—Who have become victims of solitary vice, that dreadful and destructive habit, which annually sweeps to an untimely grave thousands of young men of exalted talent and brilliant intellect, may call with confidence.

DRS. FRANCE AND OTTMAN, after years of experience, have discovered the greatest cure known for weakness in the back and limbs, involuntary discharges, impotency, general debility, nervousness, languor, confusion of ideas, palpitation of the heart, timidity, trembling, dimness of sight, or giddiness, diseases of the head, throat, nose, or skin, affections of the liver, lungs, stomach, or bowels—those terrible disorders arising from the solitary vice of youth—and secret practices, blighting their most radiant hopes or anticipations, rendering marriage impossible. Take one candid thought before it is too late. A week or month may place your case beyond the reach of hope. Our method of treatment will speedily and permanently cure the most obstinate case, and absolutely restore perfect manhood.

TO MIDDLE-AGED MEN.—There are many from the age of 30 to 60 who are troubled with frequent evacuations of the bladder, often accompanied by a slight burning or smarting sensation, weakening the system in a manner the patient cannot account for. On examination of the urinary deposits, a ropy sediment will be found, or the color will be a thin or milkish hue. There are many men who die of this difficulty, ignorant of the cause, which is a second stage of seminal weakness. We will guarantee a perfect cure in all such cases, and a healthy restoration of the genito-urinary organs.

DISEASES OF WOMEN.—We have a special department, thoroughly organized, and devoted exclusively to the treatment of diseases of women. Every case consulting our specialists, whether by letter or in person, is given the most careful and considerate attention. Important cases (and we get few which have not baffled the skill of all the home physicians) have the benefit of a full council of skilled specialists. In treatment of diseases peculiar to females, our success has been marked, over two-thirds of our patients being ladies, old, young, married, single, rich and poor. Our method is entirely free from objectionable features of the general practitioner, namely, "Local treatment." We seldom find it necessary. We prepare remedies, constitutional and local, as the case demands, and instruct ladies how to treat themselves.

MARRIAGE.—Married persons, or young men contemplating marriage, aware of physical weakness, loss of procreative powers, impotency, or any other disqualification, speedily restored.

PRIVATE DISEASES.—Blood Poison, Venereal Taint, Gleet, Stricture, Seminal Emissions, Loss of Sexual Power, Weakness of Sexual Organs, Want of Desire in Male or Female, whether from imprudent habits of youth or sexual habits of mature years, or any cause that debilitates the sexual functions, speedily and permanently cured. DO YOU WANT GOLD?

Cripple Creek is not a health resort. It is a wealth resort. Quite a difference! Location, near Pike's Peak, in Colorado. Gold—bright, yellow gold, is found at grass roots and in the rock formation.

Reliable experts claim this is to-day the richest camp in Colorado. Assays average $100 per ton, and have run as high as $5,000. One hundred people a day are now rushing to Fremont, chief town of the district.

The chance of a life-time is worth looking after!

You can get there quickly and comfortably by taking Santa Fe Route. Only line with no change of cars from Chicago, Kansas City and other principal cities to Florissant, nearest railroad station, with daily stages to Fremont.

GLADSTONE IN GOOD HEALTH.

Paris, Feb. 26.—The Rt. Hon. William E. Gladstone has arrived in this city and will remain here, at the Hotel Bristol, for a few days, previous to resuming his journey back to England. Mr. Gladstone appears to be hale and hearty and in every way enjoying good health.

A MERITED NOTICE.

From time to time, for some months past, we have called attention to the mammoth advertisement of Drs. France & Ottman, which appears in our columns. In these notices we have purposely refrained from the expression of a personal opinion of the doctors. Their continued visits to our city and the constantly increasing numbers that throng their parlors at each succeeding visit, coupled with the important fact that not a word of dissatisfaction has come to our ears from any one of their many patients, makes it a duty to our readers that we personally call attention to the work the doctors are doing. The evidences in our community of their respective skill are but the results of years of experience and training in the principal centers of medical learning. Those who have not consulted Drs. France & Ottman should certainly not fail to do so at once.

Drs. France & Ottman, formerly of New York, now of the France Medical and Surgical Institute, Columbus, Ohio, by request of many friends and patients, have decided to visit Toledo, Saturday, February 27. Consultation and examination free and strictly confidential in the private parlor of the Burnett House, from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m., one day only.
